Seek Million-Dollar Heiress.

Miss Bloodgood Escapes from Home of Son of Gov. Fort.

Mind Believed Unhinged as a Result of Unhappy Love Affair.

Wealthy Father Offers Big Reward and Has Lake Drugged.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LAKEWOOD (N. J.) March 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A pack of bloodhounds, brought here from Atlantic Highlands, was used today to trace the flight of Miss Helen Bloodgood, the million-dollar heiress who escaped from the home of Leslie Fort, son of Gov. Fort of New Jersey, which had been leased as a sanatorium for the girl, after she had attacked and overpowered her nurse.

The young woman was in a state of mental collapse, due, it is alleged, to an unhappy love affair. She is a daughter of William Bloodgood, secretary of the American Felt Company.

A reward of $1000 has been offered by her father for information concerning her whereabouts. The bloodhounds were obtained at Mr. Bloodgood's request after all other means to trace his daughter had failed.

"Snack" Snedecker brought the dogs to Lakewood from Atlantic Highlands. They got the scent at the Fort home and followed it swiftly to a house near Mahlin, the small hamlet four miles north of Lakewood. The dogs stopped at the house and ran around it several times.

Inquiry was made at the house for the missing heiress, but the occupants denied having seen her. Nevertheless, these details, it is believed, Miss Bloodgood received nothing and money at the Lakewood home.

LOVE SCENT AT STATION. Forced out on the trail again, the bloodhounds ran to the railroad station hour by hour. There they lost the scent altogether, which leads to the conclusion that the young woman boarded a train.

When Mr. Bloodgood learned of the SENATOR FLINT MAY STAND.

Urgent Appeals from People Lead Him to Consider the Matter.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON (D. C.) March 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A prominent member of the California delegation tonight told me that Senator Flint had practically reconsidered his determination not to be a candidate for reelection to the Senate and would probably stand, even at a great personal sacrifice.

"Flint will have to do it," said the Congressman. "The appeals to him from the citrus fruit interests, the harbor interests and the commercial interests, in fact from all Southern California, have been so urgent that he cannot hold out. He was sincere in his determination to withdraw, and meant every word he said; but he has simply been overruled by the tremendous force of public sentiment."

Senator Flint said tonight that he had no statement to make as yet, but I am assured that he will make a formal statement within a few days over his own signature.

Members of the California delegation say that Flint's decision will settle it; that if he remains in the field, there will be no contest. He will be re-elected hands down.

Your correspondent personally believes that Senator Flint's successor will be Senator Flint.

Col. Roosevelt's steamer, the Dal, a vessel placed at his disposal by the British Sirdar, Gen. Sir Reginald Wingate, was expected here tonight, but was delayed above.

Your correspondent has sent aboard the Dal the greeting of the Record-Herald and the Los Angeles Times, and this was the first word of welcome that the former President has received from an American since he began his return to civilization. By this message I received the welcome reply:

"I am surprised and delighted to find you here in the wilderness. I look forward with pleasure to seeing you tomorrow."

Answering my direct inquiry, Col. Roosevelt telegraphed:

"Will make no political statement of any kind whatever."
[Signed] "ROOSEVELT."

The special steamer will leave here in a few minutes. I expect to meet the Dal tomorrow morning. Col. Roosevelt plans to arrive in Khartoum Monday.

The great international newspaper race up the Nile which ended tonight started on Tuesday at Khartoum. The objective point was Reck, where all expected to meet Col. Roosevelt.

Our ship, the Cairo, arrived at Gullul first but was compelled to pull up and wait four hours for the British steamer, the Abbas Pasha, to pass. Then began a grinding steam chase, the native crews entering into the spirit of the friendly contest, the stokers singing, the crews shouting with excitement and the Southerners taking all kinds of chances dodging and bars.

Several times we were aground, but we got off quickly and set off again through the thick darkness. At 11 o'clock we were still an hour behind but at 11 this morning we passed the enemy. The Abbas was soon out of sight in our rear and we have not seen her again.

Above Khartoum we entered the wild country. The Nile banks were covered with the Shilluk and Bacarra tribes and saw at intervals their villages with their mud huts and their naked inhabitants. Along the river banks we saw many hippopotamuses and crocodiles. While we were of water fowl took wing from the river itself as we swept by. In the hills near Jebel we saw a lion.

The Cairo, the winner of the novel race, is by the Southern Development Company. The Abbas Pasha is the property of the government. I carry a big mail for Col. Roosevelt from the Khartoum postoffice.

Exciting Day and Night Boat Contest in Egypt by Correspondents.

RECK (Egyptian Sudan) March 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An exciting race from Khartoum up the White Nile to meet former President Roosevelt, now returning to civilization after nearly a year of hunting in the African wilderness, ended tonight with a victory for the Chicago Record-Herald and the Los Angeles Times when the special steamer Cairo, chartered by your correspondent, and with him as its sole passenger, arrived here many hours ahead of the rival steamer, Abbas Pasha, chartered by a group of other journalists from America and England.

Col. Roosevelt's steamer, the Dal, a vessel placed at his disposal by the British Sirdar, Gen. Sir Reginald Wingate, was expected here tonight, but was delayed above.

Your correspondent has sent aboard the Dal the greeting of the Record-Herald and the Los Angeles Times, and this was the first word of welcome that the former President has received from an American since he began his return to civilization. By this message I received the welcome reply:

SCARRED FOR LIFE.

Banker Lillis Shows His Wounds.

Tells of Midnight Attack on Him by Cudahy in Latter's Home.

"Great Injustice Done a Pure Woman," He Says, Despite Warnings.

"Chatting on a Commonplace Subject" When Struck, He Declares.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) March 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Jere S. Lillis received a reporter at St. Mary's Hospital this afternoon.

Though there are several cuts on Mr. Lillis' face, in all probability he will have but one scar. This will be on the left cheek and neck, where the dull butcher knife wielded by Cudahy slashed a ragged, ugly cut. This scar the banker will carry to his grave. It is healing rapidly, so are all the other wounds on his body, but a thin white line will always remain as the memento of that Saturday night's tragedy.

The cut just above the left cheek bone is healing over so slowly that the physician does not expect any scar to remain. Of course, there will be scars on the legs and hands, but only one small mark on the left side of the chin will be visible.

"The banker said nothing during the time Dr. Ayres was examining each separate wound. When he concluded he smiled as much as the confusion on his lower lip would allow, and said:

"Well, do I look like I was a dead man? Do I look as though I were injured for life?"

WILL WALK TODAY. Mr. Lillis was not dangerously wounded. When he leaves the hospital tomorrow he will be able to walk unaided. Today he was feeling as well as ever, with the exception of a little lameness caused by the knife cuts upon his legs.

He will have sustained no permanent injury of any sort from his experience. With the exception of a few scars he will have recovered completely.

The patient seems proud of his

John D. Rockefeller.

plays golf while incorporators of Rockefeller Foundation wrestle with many suggestions as to how his millions shall best be spent.

MANY SCHEMES FOR JOHN D.'S MILLIONS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Start J. Murphy, one of the incorporators named in the bill to establish the Rockefeller Foundation, said today it is not yet known exactly what endowment the Foundation would have, although it will be ample and fully in accord with the gigantic spirit of the entire scheme.

He said the bill is intended to broaden the scope of Mr. Rockefeller's philanthropies and is almost identical in form with the act of Congress in 1894 under which the Rockefeller education fund was authorized. The new bill makes it possible for Mr. Rockefeller to go into any form of philanthropy in the world, whereas the first endowment was specifically limited.

How much Mr. Rockefeller has left of his enormous fortune is even harder to guess than how much he has given away.

Suggestions for the expenditure of the millions of Rockefeller under the Foundation are being received by the Budget Committee in every mail. Many are remarkable for their impracticability, but others are receiving serious consideration. All of those that have a germ of feasibility are filed and will be taken up when the Foundation is established and ready for actual work.

One of the worstest of the proposed Foundation, thinks Joseph Francolino, an Italian banker of the East side, would be to aid in the dissemination of immigrants and "house" who live in congested city districts. He suggests that the Foundation buy land adjacent to large cities, lay it out in complete farms, under the direction of an expert, and then transport settlers thither, paying the expense and making provision for their support a specified time.

At the end of a year or more the farmer would begin to repay by his installments, and continue until his full indebtedness should be discharged. If, at the end of a year or more, the farmer had not been able to make his farm pay, he would be removed to make way for somebody more competent.

Few men in this or any country have been more abused and criticized than has Rockefeller. This feeling has been changed to a large extent by the magnificent gifts he has made for education and philanthropic purposes. Even his bitterest critics are now willing to concede that Rockefeller married his daughters to American men, that he bought no foreign titles, and that, when he became enormously wealthy, he still remained devoted to his aged wife who had helped him all through the years, instead of casting her off and marrying an actress. The home life of the Rockefellers has been flawless. Morally there is no cleaner man. His critics admit that his intentions are of the best, although they criticize his methods.

George Peabody was the pioneer in the making of great gifts for the public welfare. In 1867 he gave the Peabody fund of $1,000,000 to be used in the promotion of education in the South. The income from this fund of which nearly $2,000,000 have been spent, brought good results.

Dr. D. K. Pearsons of Chicago has given away about nine millions, chiefly to small colleges in the West and South. John F. Slater of the West

PLAYWRIGHT GETS SORE.

Tells New Yorkers What Ails Them in Many-Bibbled Invective.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "What's the matter with New York? Nothing much. Just lobster palates, angonismia, continentals, haughty disdain of anything that is American, big thieves who live on little thieves, little thieves who live on everything, electrification, megalomania, sale of women, and a few other trifles."

"Mark me," said Playwright Eugene Walter, in a colloquial indictment today in the office of the Garrick Theater. "I am not panning New York because some of the critics there roared 'Just a Wife.' I see all of these things, and they pain me."

Walter's pain was even more acute, and drove him more directly to stronger expression than that which Joseph Medill Patterson, who makes our little city his home, sometimes feels over events in Cook county.

strength to recover and urged the reporter to remain while Dr. S. D. Ayres went over his wounds. There was the long cut on the left side of the neck, beginning below the left ear and running to the mouth. One cut on each thigh at least four inches long, three cuts on the right leg below the knee, crosscuts on the front of the legs, three or four small knife wounds on the cheeks, one on the left side of the face in which three stitches had been taken; contused and lacerated wounds on the lower lip; the flesh loose and teeth broken; a contused wound on the bridge of the nose, made by a heavy searchlight lantern in the hands of Cudahy's chauffeur, and two slight cuts on the outside of the right hand.

Lillis didn't talk much. It was not so much his residence, but the confusion on his lower lip is still very painful and whenever he opens his mouth the wound pains him. But with all the pain and the evil-looking bruises the banker smiled broadly several times and talked at intervals.

"RIDICULOUS STORIES." "It's just been brought to my attention recently what everybody is saying around about the way I've been carved up," said he with a faint grin on his battered countenance.

"Isn't it funny what ridiculous stories get around about a thing of this sort. People never stop to investigate or search for reliable sources for their information. They just hear a story, believe it, and that's all there is to it." He looked up and smiled quizzically.

"Did you ever have two big men sneak up on you and take you unawares," he asked. "Well, if you never had that experience, you won't know

TEACH FORESTRY IN HIGH SCHOOL.

NEW FORESTER OUTLINES POLICY FOR STATE WORK.

Plans to issue Circulars to School Committees, Principals and Teachers Giving Elementary Course of Tree Study--Will Take Over Inspection and Plantings.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
 SACRAMENTO, March 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] George M. Homans, who has succeeded G. B. Lull as State forester, announced today that his policies will be much the same as those of his predecessor. He will look forward to conservation and forest protection and eventually try to bring about a course of forestry in the high schools of California. In a statement issued today he said:

"An effort will be made at the next Legislature to secure an appropriation to strengthen the present forest protective system by which trees are saved from destruction by fire."

"The examination of timber lands and planting areas temporarily handled by the forest service will from to those desiring suggestions or recommendations looking toward either conservative forest management, protection against fire or planting for forest purposes. Special attention will be given to those desiring information upon woodlot and shelter belt plantations; also improvement cutting in existing groves.

"Because of the demand for more definite knowledge of forestry, steps will be taken to fill this need through cooperation with school committees, principals of schools and teachers. A series of circulars will be issued which eventually may form the basis for an elementary course of forestry, adapted to students in high schools throughout the State."

TO ARGUE HETCH-HETCHY.
ASKS SECRETARY FOR DATE.
 [ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE REPORT.]
 SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—Mayor McCarthy today sent a telegram to Secretary of the Interior Ballinger asking that official to set a date upon which representatives of San Francisco may be heard in the matter of the city's rights in the Hetch-Hetchy Valley. The message informs Ballinger that if the government does not stand the expense the city will defray the costs of the trip. Ballinger has cited the Mayor and other officials to show cause why the city's rights in the Hetch-Hetchy should not be revoked.

NIPS DOUBLE BLISS.
BOTH GIRLS UNDER ARREST.
 [ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
 SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—After here last night, are under arrest. This city. Miss Glibeth is in charged with kidnapping Miss Brigh who is only 15 years old and who has been taken to the Detention Home. Miss Glibeth tried unsuccessfully yesterday to communicate with Har Bond, her fiancé, and George Bort who was to have married her youthful companion. Both left San Francisco several days ago for the interior and will be arrested on their return. Then all four will be returned to Pol land, whence the slopers fled south.

RINKS FURNISH HILARITY.
Testimony in Damage Cases Again Roller Skating Companies Tiskles Sober Londoners.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
 LONDON, March 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] London is convulsed with laughter over the testimony in a case before the High Court of Justice. Brixton, in which a clergyman and others seek to abate an alleged nuisance arising from a roller skating rink.

Such rinks, which are the rage in London and several other European capitals, are said to be making enormous profits for their owners and at the same time involving them in legal difficulties right and left, occupants of adjacent property suing for damages and getting verdicts.

The rink companies in several instances have been compelled to buy adjoining houses outright. Proprietors of lodging-houses testi-

LOS ANGELES YOUNG MAN KIDNAPED FOR TEXAS JAIL.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SACRAMENTO, March 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Raymond A. Sweet, a young man from Los Angeles, has been kidnapped from his home here and taken to San Quentin, where he is held in jail without trial.

The father has been in total ignorance of the son's fate. The Texas officer who had the son in custody did not notify him. At last the prisoner succeeded in getting a letter past his guards and the mystery was explained.

The fact that no requisition papers were granted is verified by a search of the records in the Governor's office here, after an appeal from Sweet, Sr.

Sweet, who is 25 years of age, was arrested here in the latter part of 1907 on a charge of felony embezzlement. He was sent to San Quentin, following conviction in the higher courts, early in 1908.

CAUGHT WITH OPIUM.
BIG PLOT IS SUSPECTED.
 [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
 DOUGLAS (Ariz.) March 10.—In the arrest of John Smith, who was discovered by customs inspectors, carrying a can of opium over the border at Aguprieta, the Federal officials believe that they have found a clue to wholesale opium smuggling. Smith was evidently operating in connection partially filled with opium. A search for the others implicated is now being made.

HERO DEPUTY DEAD.
 Sheriff's Officer Jones, Shot Four Years Ago by Insane Man, Finally Succumbs.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
 RENO (Nev.) March 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Alfred Jones, for years a deputy sheriff at Hawthorne, passed away at the former county seat after a protracted illness. At the time of his demise Jones was serving under Sheriff Bradley, as he had under several preceding incumbents of the office. He was widely known in the northern part of the county as an able and fearless officer.

Jones' fatal illness is believed to have originated from the effects of several bullet wounds which he received in the head about four years ago while seeking to arrest an escape from the Nevada State Insane Asylum in this county.

As a result of the bravery shown and the physical disability endured he was awarded $3000 under an act of the State Legislature, but the money was lost later, being on deposit in the defunct State

LANGFORD MAY MEET KETCHEL.

Wm. Agrees to Fight for the Middleweight Title.

Griffin Hopes to Stage Bout Early in July.

Sports Believe White Pug Has Gone Backwards.

(BY DIBBY WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Promoter Jim Griffin of San Francisco, who was supposed to have been left in bad shape by the selection of the Emeryville race track for the scene of the Jeffries-Johnson battle, has wired to Stanley Ketchel, offering him a battle for the middleweight championship, with Sam Langford on July 2, two days before the big fight.

As this date falls on Saturday and the fight will be scheduled for the afternoon, Griffin figures out that he can draw a paying crowd from local fans and visitors.

Joe Woodman, for Langford, has agreed to the match and it is expected that Stanley will not be averse to the battle, as it will mean good money, with a chance to settle for all time the controversy over the relative merits of the two men.

There is no question but that this fight would draw an audience of 6000 or 8000 spectators at good prices.

Langford has no one but Jim Griffin in the fighting game and many sporting men throughout the country are inclined to think that Sam would not Ketchel rather easy, for Stanley has been going the pace ever since his debut by Jack Johnson. It has been given out frequently by those who have seen Ketchel recently that he is nothing like the Ketchel of a year ago and that the first good fight he fought he would double beat him.

LANGFORD IN SHAPE.

BLACK WOODMAN IS READY.

Sam Langford has decided that he will not do any work today, that he will be in such shape that he thinks a fight will do him good. Under the watchful eye of George Byers, who has been especially engaged by Joe Woodman to look after Sam, the Bostonian's condition is far improved over what it has been in any of his recent fights and he looks to have Sam make a great showing in the ring against Jim Griffin on March 17.

TUESDAY LANGFORD WENT ON THE ROAD.

Langford went on the road to seven miles and exercised in the ring at Arcadia for more than an hour. He boxed with Bob Armstrong, Junior Collins, Young Kenny and Bill Cleveland. His other work consisted of throwing the medicine ball, roller boxing, wrestling and jumping the rope.

Jim was active at Doyle's camp yesterday where he roughed it with several of his helpers. He boxed four rounds with Al Rogers, who is preparing himself for Young Kenny; and he boxed with Dick Allen. Flynn seems to be improving daily and expects to be in grand shape for the fight on Thursday at Vernon.

FRANKIE CONLEY WIRE THE PACIFIC CLUB.

Frankie Conley wired the Pacific Athletic Club yesterday that he would be in and asking when the fight with Danny Webster would be staged. Manager McCarry replied that it would be put on March 23, and he would be in the Pacific Coast at that time. Conley is anxious to get another chance at Conley and the latter part of this month would suit him.

Langford is expected to come to Los Angeles this week and he may witness the Flynn-Kenny contest. Harry wrote that he had an easy time of getting accustomed to the place and that he would be in grand shape for the fight on Thursday at Vernon.

JOHNSON IS ACTIVE.

LEAKS THE HOT WEATHER.

CHICAGO, March 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] According to advices received in this city, Jack Johnson, who is expected to fight on Monday, will leave for the scene of the big fight some time next month.

Jack figures that the characteristic of his race to endure a warm climate will enable him to devote less time to getting accustomed to the Coast than his opponent, and he has made a good impression in his workouts at the pavilion.

Johnson realized that he has a serious task out for him. He has been training in the "heat" the way he did in his early days. Street and bar fights have been his specialty and he has been strictly out on it.

The big black, strapping fine and strong, weighing 235 pounds. There is not a trace of weakness about him. He is a real fighter and he has been in the ring for any amount of hard training.

As soon as the champion returns from Minnesota he will begin his preparation for the fight. He will be in training at a special gymnasium set up at his residence on North Fifth St. The Chicago Athletic Club will train Johnson during the three or four weeks of work in preparation for the fight.

Paul trading in San Francisco will be handled by "Gumbo" Smith, and Johnson will use the same gymnasium as the Seal Rock Hotel that he has used so well for his fight with Ketchel.

KLING'S CASE.

CHICAGO, March 10.—[Final Dispatch.] The case of John Kling, catcher of the Chicago National, who seeks to be reinstated, will be made immediately following the return of President Johnson of the American League to his trip to the Pacific Coast. This case will be held in Cincinnati to pass on the matter.

It was intended to settle the matter by a vote, but a great number of the players have since arisen, and the National Commission is to be held in Cincinnati. Johnson is not expected to return from the Coast before the 15th.

There is a great gathering of British players in the coming season. The players of the coming season will be a great gathering of British players in the coming season.

QUEER RULING. BOWES WINS ON CRARY'S FOUL.

VENICE LAD TAKES JUVENILE FIFTY-YARD SPRINT.

Championship Swimming Events at Bimini Plunge Marred by Unfortunate Work of Youngster in Short Dash—Judge Collins, Crary Second Place—Good Card Tonight.

Because George Crary failed to keep in his prescribed channel, and repeatedly fouled Clifford Bowes of Venice by crossing in front of him, the Southern California championship in the fifty-yard juvenile race was awarded to the latter, although the former finished fully six feet in the lead in the speedy time of 30.8. In the swimming contests at the Bimini plunge last night.

Crary, it is asserted, intends to protest the decision and claim the championship owing to the fact that in the men's fifty-yard dash, which was decided two nights ago, a similar case occurred and no notice was taken of the affair by the judges. The dispute will probably be taken up more fully at the next meeting of the A.A.U.

The rivalry between the two swimmers was intense, as each had won a preliminary heat. Bowes taking first in his event from Sunset and Edwards in 34.8, while Crary had beaten out Dunlap and Spieken in 33.8.

In the final heat Crary and Bowes swam neck and neck for part of the way; then the former obtained a slight lead and crossed twice in front of the latter, although the latter finished the swim. Bowes declares Crary struck him in the face with his feet and compelled him to lose several strokes by swerving from his course. Sweet finished a close third.

The peculiar part of the whole affair is that Secretary Collins, who acted as principal judge, should disqualify Crary for fouling Bowes and take the victory away from him, and yet allow him to have second place. The consensus of opinion was that Crary should be disqualified for fouling Bowes, but that he should be allowed his victory or else be totally disqualified in the event.

Charles Bassett of Ocean Park won the under-water swimming event, with a submerged swim of 157 feet, which falls short of his own past mark, and that of Kenneth Kogge, both of whom have swum more than 225 feet. Everett Beckham of the local Y.M.C.A. took second honors, with 157 ft. 3 in. to his credit, while William Rant's under-water run of 115 ft. 11 in. brought him a third prize medal. Rant is a Bimini swimmer.

Ernest Dugan, who were scheduled to swim a 100-yard dash, failed to appear, but their act will be among the events on tonight's card of aquatic sports.

Fancy diving exhibitions were given by Andrew Scholz, Andrew Scholz and J. M. Cox. The latter also repeated his sensational fire dive.

The feature of this evening's programme will be the 100-yard dash for the Southern California championship. Marcus Lee, who has been winning most of the races so far hands down, will attempt to add this ribbon to his long list of championship records, but his chances are not so bright as in the longer races.

Lee's strong point is his endurance, and this will not buy him a great deal.

CHALLENGE ACCEPTED. MRS. WILLIS TO SWIM RACE.

Seere Nord, the English diving beauty appearing this week at the Los Angeles Theater, is to swim a match race with Mrs. Edward C. Willis of Santa Monica in about a month. The course is to be from Ocean Park to the Venice pier.

The race will be for a purse to be posted two weeks previous to the contest. It was expected to be held next Monday morning, but Miss Nord will be obliged to leave for Salt Lake City Sunday night immediately after the performance.

Miss Nord is to return to Los Angeles in three weeks, and is to train several days, owing to the fact that giving her the time to practice swimming, but she is confident that she can uphold her previous records.

Miss Willis is a Southern California girl and a finely developed type of the athletic woman. She has several excellent swimming records to her credit and the race between these two swimmers should be most interesting.

JUST A TRY-OUT. FIRST COLLEGE CONTEST TODAY.

CROMWELL'S PUPILS TO PLAY HOLLYWOOD HIGH.

Methodists Revise Schedule and Are to Meet Occidental in First Intercollegiate Baseball Game Early in April—Practice Contest With Monrovia High Tomorrow.

The U.S.C. baseball team is to play its first game this afternoon with Hollywood High School at Boyard Field, the first college team to play on Saturday.

On Saturday the varsity nine is to journey to Monrovia to meet the High School team of that foothill suburb. The intercollegiate schedule of games has been completely revised, and the first game of the 1910 conference season will be played with Occidental at Bear Park, on April 2.

Capt. Wirsching is rejoicing in the fact that for the first time in many years there will be an abundance of pitching material on hand. Trotter, Hall, Turner, Crossman and Craig form the quintette of blasters, who will play under the Methodist colors.

Craig, who will be ineligible in the conference games, is to be used in the game Saturday. He has been doing good work in practice and is expected to be the varsity's best man next year.

Crossman is to pitch this afternoon while Turner, a new man from the East, will be given an early tryout in one of the future practice games. Trotter and Walter Hall are still in cinder-path training, but will join the diamond squad as soon as the track season closes.

Gower and Walton are two other members of Cromwell's track team, who are to don baseball suits after the conference meet next Saturday. Gower expects to tryout for either first or second base, while Walton will do some work behind the bat.

Mahoney, the Pomona High School freshman, is making good in the infield, and will be used at short, the position played by his brother Lee Mahoney for three years on the Pomona College nine, in both games this week. Crossman will hold down second base in Saturday's game, and Malm will take his place there today, while "Crossie" does the twirling.

Gates is to catch against the Monrovia, while Hughes will receive Crossman's delivery this afternoon. If Hall will play first, Wirsching third, and Cane, Pauline, and Hogan will perform the outfield chores.

In order that the varsity may be in the best possible condition to meet their principal rivals, City and Pomona, three-game series will be played with both the Law and Dental College teams during the week preceding the first game with the two other conference colleges.

The revised schedule follows: Occidental at Bear Park, April 9; Pomona at Boyard Field, April 16; Whittier at Whittier, April 23; Occidental at Boyard Field, April 30; Pomona at Boyard Field, May 7; Whittier at Boyard Field, May 14; third game to be arranged for if each college wins a game.

O'Brien Knocks Out Connolly.

MONTREAL, March 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] English Jack O'Brien, welterweight, knocked out Eddy Connolly in the fourteenth round here tonight. O'Brien proved the game and cleverer of the two. Connolly was the stronger, and lost the fight through loss of heart. Both men weighed in at 142 pounds. After the fight was over one of O'Brien's seconds assaulted the referee with a bottle.

Don't Blame Your Stomach

WHEN WITHOUT EXERTION OR COST YOU CAN ENJOY MEALS AND CURE DYSPEPSIA.

A Trial Package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Sent Free.

Don't blame your stomach or your luck when your meals declare war on your system.

When the stomach won't do its work, it becomes a cause of trouble. When food, smelling odor, comes from your stomach, when the head aches and the sourness of mouth every morning makes you hate your breakfast, when dreams and nightmares assail you, don't give up the fight.

This is the appeal of nature, and it should be heard.

Over-eating, late suppers, poorly chewed food, too rich pastries and underdone cooking are some of the causes of the stomach's ill health.

When the stomach is busy, it presses and churns all the liquid matter from food and with its juices dissolves into liquid form or pulp everything which comes into it.

If such food be poisonous it effects the juices, attacks the stomach, goes into the blood and weakens the entire system.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest a full meal easily without material assistance from the stomach.

They contain every requisite for the stomach and digestion. After a meal one of these little tablets when it enters the stomach mingles with the juices, attacks the food and digests it. It removes the fermented and decayed matter, brings about a healthy condition of the stomach at once.

It is wholly a question for you to solve. Your druggist will furnish Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, 50c the box, or send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package free.

Spies Directors Prepare for the Future.

McCormick, Herrin and Calvin Pushed Up.

All Headquarters to Be in
San Francisco.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, March 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The directors of the Southern Pacific Company met in New York today and selected three vice-presidents who will have their headquarters in San Francisco. The new officials are:

E. O. McCormick, formerly assistant traffic director of the Harriman lines at Chicago, to be vice-president in charge of the traffic of all the lines of the Southern Pacific Company, including those in California, Arizona, New Mexico, Nevada, Utah and Arizona. As vice-president, Mr. McCormick will report to J. C. Stubbs, traffic director of the Harriman lines at Chicago.

William F. Herrin, formerly general manager of the company, is made vice-president in charge of the legal and land departments of the corporate organization and of the financial business in California, reporting direct to the president in New York.

CALVIN HEADS OPERATION.
R. E. Calvin, formerly vice-president and general manager, to be vice-president in charge of transportation, construction, purchasing, pension and hospital departments for the lines south of Oakland, Cal., and west of Sparks, Nev., and west of El Paso, reporting to the director of maintenance and operation, Julius Kruttschnitt.

The changes were made with a view to strengthening the Southern Pacific organization on the Pacific Coast, this being made necessary by the rapidly increasing business of the company. It is stated that the country through which the Southern Pacific lines run is becoming very rapidly and San Francisco is as rapidly becoming more important as a terminal proposition.

It is the present railway situation, the management is said to see a renewed struggle for traffic supremacy on the Coast, and is strengthening its organization in order to keep pace with the growing demands made upon the company.

It is also stated that there is no intention to give up the plan of centralizing all Harriman lines from headquarters in Chicago, this being a plan that the late Edward H. Harriman had approved.

McCormick has been with the Southern Pacific since 1899, when he was in the position of passenger traffic manager of the Big Four to become general traffic manager of the Southern Pacific at San Francisco.

He is currently in love with the West and knows the conditions there as well as any man. Until 1899, he was always passenger lines, and since that date he has had the handling of both freight and passenger traffic for all the Harriman lines west of J. C. Stubbs, the traffic head of all the roads in the Harriman group.

McCormick is a native of Indiana, having been born at Lafayette, Ind. He was with the Southern Pacific and Western in that city, and afterward held the position of general passenger agent of the American Union Pacific and Dayton. He is also a past president of the Association of General Passenger Agents.

LOVE NEVER GROWS OLD.
40-Year-Old Widow Sues 74-Year-Old Widow for Alienation of Husband.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, March 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Why should love die? This was the question asked by the case of a 40-year-old woman, who has made defendant in a $10,000 divorce suit instituted by Carolin, a 74-year-old widow, who has been married to her for 34 years.

Carolyn, the divorced wife of Michael, a butcher at No. 1854 West Madison street, has been married to her for 34 years.

ENDS DYSPEPSIA IN FEW MINUTES.

GAS, HEARTBURN, HEADACHE, AND ALL MISERY FROM THE STOMACH VANISHES BEFORE YOU REALIZE IT.

There is not a single reader of The Times who suffers from any form of stomach trouble who can afford to leave Diapiesin untried—There is no other preparation which gives such prompt and lasting relief.

There would not be a case of indigestion here if readers who are subject to stomach trouble knew the tremendous anti-ferment and digestive virtue contained in Diapiesin. This harmless preparation will digest a heavy meal without the slightest fuss or discomfort, and relieve the sour, acid stomach in five minutes, besides overcoming all foul, nauseous odors from the breath.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on each 50c case of Diapiesin, then you will readily understand why this promptly cures indigestion and removes such symptoms as heartburn, a feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, belching of gas and eructations of undigested food, water brash, nausea, headache, biliousness, and many other bad symptoms; and, besides, you will not need laxatives to keep your stomach, liver and intestines clean and fresh.

If your stomach is sour and full of gas or your food doesn't digest, and your meals don't seem to fit, why not get a 50c case from your druggist and make life worth living? Absolute relief from stomach misery and perfect digestion of anything you eat is sure to follow five minutes after, and, besides, one case is sufficient to cure a whole family of such trouble.

Surely, a harmless, inexpensive preparation like Diapiesin, which will always, either at daytime or during night, relieve your stomach misery and digest your food, is about as handy and valuable a thing as you could have in the house.

COMMON SENSE.
LAYS DOWN LAW
FOR MAGISTRATES

NEW YORK, March 10.—Mayor Gaynor has laid down two broad rules for the police magistrates in New York—first, that a woman street arrested for soliciting police did not hear what a second, that it does not need a witness to prove a woman's testimony to convict a liquor dealer of Sunday selling.

These views are expressed in a letter to Moses J. Harris, secretary of the Kings County Bar Association, whom the Mayor has named to succeed Henry J. Furlong, the Brooklyn magistrate recently convicted of petty graft.

The letter, in part, follows: "Make a resolution at the time you are sworn in never to be swayed by political influence, or any other improper influence. Be not elated with your powers, which are very great and apt to turn one's head."

"Do not convict any one until heard. See to it, on the other hand, that arrested persons are not discharged when they should be held. If an officer sees a woman in the street ogling a man after man, it is deplorable to see a magistrate discharge her on the ground that, as the policeman did not hear what she said to the men, there was no evidence that she solicited."

Taking up the Sunday selling question, the Mayor said that the serving of a drink of whisky is an admission by the defendant that it is whisky, and that a magistrate should act accordingly rather than dismiss cases for lack of evidence.

"I could multiply similar foibles," he writes, "but these suffice for illustration. I intend to have all such cases reported to the Police Commissioner and by him to this office, to be presented to the appellate division of the Supreme Court through the bar association in cases for the removal of such magistrates."

RETRIEVES HAT, WINS WIFE.
Young Gothamite Rescues Headgear from Ice Fats and Gets Girl's Heart for Gallantry.

NEW YORK, March 10.—Sixteen-year-old Catherine Sexton of Macdonald street was walking one chilly day last month through Corleas Hook Park, on the New York water front.

The wind was blowing half a gale, and Miss Sexton had difficulty in keeping her new picture hat in place.

Then came a stronger gust than usual, and the filmy creation went sailing out over the park and landed in the East River.

Arthur Monahan, a young mechanic, was crossing the park at the moment. He gave a glance at the fearful girl, and then at the floating headgear, and discarded his coat.

Diving into the icy water, he swam to the hat, rescued it, and returned it to Miss Sexton.

They were married today.

BANK MUST PAY PIPER.
Court Rules Financial Institution Responsible for Depositor's Money Lost in Speculation.

NEW YORK, March 10.—Judge Cox of the United States Circuit Court overruled today the demurrers interposed on behalf of defendants in the suit of John W. McKinnon, agent for the shareholders of the National Bank of North America, against Charles W. Morse and Directors Havermeier and Flagler.

In his decision Judge Cox says: "The money lost by Curtis and Morse, as president and vice-president, respectively, in stock transactions in which the defendants participated, is no part of the business of a national bank. If the directors permit the funds, which it was their duty to guard, to be plundered, they are liable, and must restore the lost property."

TOO MUCH JOY KILLS.
SOUTH NORWALK (CT.) March 10.—"Killed by excessive joy," is the coroner's verdict in the case of Mrs. Mary Hendricks, who dropped dead here yesterday. She had just received $200 in cash for some property. As the purchaser, her face flushed and she sank to the floor. The coroner decided today that excessive joy had stopped the action of her heart.

SENATOR CULLOM FERNINIST.
MANS FOREIGN DECORATIONS FOR UNCLE SAM'S EMPLOYEES.

CHICAGO, March 10.—A special to the Tribune from Washington says that the Senate committee on foreign relations will not accept decorations from foreign governments, so long as Senator Cullom remains chairman of the committee.

He has called a halt on what was a desire to prefer foreign decorations to those of the United States.

It will disapprove of all decorations from foreign governments, and will not accept foreign decorations, requests from the officials for acceptance of foreign gifts and decorations.

The department there are wagon loads of these mementoes which have been forwarded by foreign powers and are being held pending a grant of Congressional authority to accept them.

A bill will be introduced authorizing the acceptance of the gifts, but the donors. During the seven years that Senator Cullom has been chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee only two decorations have been accepted.

One was the Order of the Red Eagle, given by Emperor William of Germany to Rear Admiral McCallin for his conspicuous services in leading the Boxer troops to Peking during the Boxer trouble.

The other was the Order of the Academy, awarded by France to C. Dewitt Wilcox in recognition of a book he wrote on military science.

The officials thus foiled in obtaining the foreign decorations may accept them after they have retired to private life.

GORDON'S TESTIMONY PROVES INTERESTING

Charles W. Gordon, whose picture is given above, is agent for the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company in Ogdensburg, N. Y., and resides at 78 King street, that city. In giving testimony regarding his own case, Mr. Gordon recently made the following state-

"Some time ago, while suffering from stomach catarrh, I was advised to take Cooper's New Discovery, and did so, two bottles of the preparation putting my stomach into good condition. Previous to my taking the New Discovery I could not eat a meal without experiencing pain and discomfort afterward.

"I had been in this condition for a long time, although I tried many different remedies in search of relief, and at last reached the conclusion that I had exhausted every available resource. Cooper's New Discovery was therefore to me almost a heaven-sent blessing, and the work of the medicine was so permanent and lasting that I have had no recurrence of my former trouble whatever.

"I can eat anything I care for without noticing any bad effects afterward. I have recommended Cooper's New Discovery to many persons of my acquaintance, and it never fails to give satisfactory results. It reaches the seat of stomach trouble in mighty short order."

"Persons who are suffering from stomach disorders will find in Cooper's New Discovery a most potent remedy. There is a heavy demand for the Cooper preparations, for which we are agents in this community. The CONFIDENCE.

RICH YOUNG WIDOW VICTIM OF A CROOK.

Hotel Man Also "Taken In" By a Clever Impostor, Who Poses as Federal Officer—Secret Service Takes Up the Hunt.

C RUEL is the awakening from "love's young dream" for Mrs. Georgia Turner, an attractive young widow from Chicago, who has been a guest at the Angelus for the past few days. The man she expected to marry turns out to be an accomplished crook and confidence man. He told her his name was Dan Boyd, but he used several aliases, the police say. Before unceremoniously leaving the hotel, Boyd thoughtfully took possession of Mrs. Turner's purse, railroad ticket and jewelry. Flashing checks for an aggregate of $50 at the office, he left the hotel and has not been seen since. For several days Mrs. Turner searched for her recreant lover, and when hope died she finally sought the advice of the police.

The police say that Boyd pawned a valuable ring at Cohn Bros. several months ago. At that time he gave the name of Sam Myers. He informed the pawnbroker that he lived in San Francisco and would shortly redeem the ring. Nothing has been heard from him by the pawnbroker. In the haste of his departure from the Angelus, Boyd, or Myers, left several clues to his identity. From letters and cards left in a valise, the detectives feel sure that the man formerly lived in San Francisco. The police department of that city has been notified and a good description was sent.

Hotel managers are generally hard to fool on ordinary bogus check transactions. But Boyd sold so straight a story that he was accommodated with two advances on a check he offered as security for the loans. It was drawn on a San Francisco bank for $150 and was apparently endorsed by responsible business man. The signatures were all forgeries, according to the bank, when it returned the check, marked "no funds."

MAKING AN IMPRESSION.
According to her story, Mrs. Turner is a woman of independent means. She has been passing the winter in California, and first saw Boyd at the Palace Hotel in San Francisco. He did not make any effort to strike up an acquaintance at the time, but evidently marked her as fair game. When she left the city he was in the same parlor car on the Coast Line Limited. He soon became friendly with her, and the two talked at Tel Monte for several days. Boyd played the gallant to perfection and mingled with the pretty widow about the picturesque town of Monterey. From there they went to Santa Barbara. He eventually "married" her, and they soon after moving Mrs. Turner. She told the detectives that he was handsome, a good talker, and a conversant with all matters concerning the government.

Casually he said he was in the secret service and displayed a fake telegram in cipher signed "Chief Wilkie." Under pledge of secrecy he also showed her a badge which he said he only used in making arrests. He told her after their tryst was over that he was detailed as one of the personal guard of Gen. Roosevelt on the latter's return to this country. He intimated that their honeymoon would be passed in Europe. After reaching Los Angeles they went to the Angelus. Both appeared to be in good circumstances, and had the best of everything.

HAZEN ON HIS TRAIL.
Harry Loomis took the two checks which were returned from the San Francisco bank to the District Attorney, and a warrant for Boyd's arrest will probably be sworn out today. Boyd spent money lavishly, but probably was out of funds when he secured possession of her money, railroad ticket and jewelry. He warned her that crooks are always on the lookout for valuables and mentioned it would be well to place her property in the hotel strong box. She did not heed his warning, and until the day after his quick departure did she suspect that she had been associating with a crook. She telegraphed to Chicago for funds and when a draft arrived she left for home, after giving

THEY SIMPLY WALK AWAY.

Two Prisoners Find Easy Means of Escape and Leave City Jail.

There are two new and certain converts to the Goo-Goo machine who will never fail to chant the praises of the new "Intuition" Police Commission. They recently escaped from the City Jail because of the failure of theoretical management of prisoners.

No patrolman is detailed at the new Receiving Hospital to watch criminal patients, and the connecting bridge between the jail and the medical department proved an excellent avenue of escape.

T. B. Howell, with ninety days to serve on a vagrancy charge, jumped off the bridge Monday night and got away. Tom Martin, with thirty days to serve on a vagrancy charge, slipped out of jail Tuesday afternoon.

The Chief of Police ordered that hereafter no prisoners shall be taken from the jail to the hospital for treatment. If they need medical attention the police surgeons will have to call in the jail. Surgeons will have to leave the hospital and take chances on being absent when there is emergency work.

ADDING TO GREAT PROJECT.

Plans Under Way for Another of the Mammoth Group of Market Buildings.

Plans for another of the mammoth group of market buildings which the Los Angeles Public Market Company will erect at Sixth and Alameda streets are in course of preparation in the office of Charles E. Statton, the architect of the project. The market will when completed be the largest in the world, covering eighteen acres, representing an investment of nearly $2,000,000. The first published account and picture of the great building project appeared exclusively in The Times of January 1.

The structure now being designed by Statton will cover a ground area of 70x150 feet and be two stories and a basement. It will be of brick construction, being faced with ornamental blue brick. The first story will be occupied by market stalls, while the second floor will be given over to offices. The architecture will be similar to that of the other and larger buildings, details of which have from time to time been published in this paper.

SEEKS POLICE: ARRESTED.

Alleged Head of Pasadena Bucket Shop Denies Responsibility—Puts Up Bail and Will Fight.

W. R. Stratton, who is alleged to be the principal owner and proprietor of the Pacific Stock Exchange, formerly the Central Stock Exchange of San Francisco, on East Green street, Pasadena, which place was raided by the Pasadena police on Wednesday, was arrested yesterday morning in the office of the Pasadena Chief of Police by Lieut. Copping, who had a warrant sworn out by Harry A. Dean.

The warrant for Stratton was sworn to at the same time as those for Sweeley, Ogil, Scott and Wornock on Wednesday. Lieut. Copping came to Stratton's Los Angeles address, No. 411 Delta building, and not finding him there, went to his home in Hollywood, late Wednesday night, but was unable to find him.

Yesterday morning Stratton, accompanied by C. B. Babinbridge, a young lawyer employed in the office of Shankland & Chandler, went to Pasadena to make some inquiries regarding the raiding of the alleged "bucket shop" the day before. He was recognized by Lieut. Copping and the arrest followed.

Stratton was taken before Justice McDonald, where he gave a cash bond of $200 for his appearance in Police Court tomorrow morning. He jokingly stated that he put in all night Wednesday night dodging officers whom he thought might have a warrant for his arrest. When brought before the justice, Stratton stated that he had nothing whatever to do with the alleged bucket shop, and that he will fight the case to the end. He stated that he is merely a salaried clerk in the employ of the Central Stock Exchange of San Francisco.

Shankland & Chandler will defend Stratton, Scott and Wornock at the hearing of the case tomorrow. So far as known, Sweeley and Ogil have not secured attorneys for defense.

FORGETFUL.

"HE'S A GOOD KID" BUT SHE LOVES NOT.

Mrs. May Robinson, wife of a wealthy mining engineer, who startled the court yesterday by saying she could not remember if her ever loved her husband, and that she caused his arrest to get an allowance.

SITTING unmoved during a cross-examination of a most personal nature, Mrs. May Robinson calmly declared yesterday that she could not remember whether she had ever loved her husband, and said that he had caused him to be arrested merely because she desired to compel him to contribute to her support. The case is in Justice Summerfield's court.

The attorneys put their questions in a dozen different ways to see if they could not gain an admission that there was some spark of love in her heart for the defendant, whose eyes were fixed affectionately on her.

The charge of failure to provide for the maintenance of his wife, which did not lead to anything, was dropped when Harold Robinson, the husband, went to Mexico for his health in May, 1909. At that time she went to the home of her father, George Miles, city quarantine officer. Since then Robinson has been working his mines in Inyo county, and he is supposed to have struck pay dirt.

When Mrs. Robinson appeared yesterday as the witness at his preliminary examination, she did not look the part of a much-abused wife. She is 25 years of age, and a handsome brunette. Her cross-examination of the latest style, and of costly material. She wore a picture hat with ostrich plumes.

She told a simple story of how Robinson had gone to the southern republic, leaving her with only $10, and that she had not received any money from him since. On cross-examination she admitted that he had gone away with her consent, that she had gone to her father's home, and that she had never offered to go back to live with him when he returned to the city.

Letter, which she wrote to his mother at that time was produced and admitted in evidence. It was somewhat amusing to the few spectators who had not been excluded from the courtroom when it was read into the record. "He had no sense when I married him," it ran. "I had less. I think I have stayed with the game pretty well. He's a good kid, but I don't

WORKS SAYS LEAGUE DIDN'T TELL TRUTH

President of Council Declares Anti-Liquor Resolution "Contemptible," and Repudiates Pretense of Campaign "Assurances."

LIKE the Irishman who went up a tree to catch a wild cat, the Good Government League is shouting for someone to help them "let go" the proposed drastic liquor ordinance.

The evidence of this was so palpable in the effort of the Municipal League to divert the Council committee on Public Welfare that President Works and six members of the Council repudiated the assertion of the Municipal League yesterday. The League declared that portions of the ordinance violated "assurances" of the Good Government organization on liquor legislation in the campaign. Secretary Edgerton of the League, pseudo "tent member" of the Council, and erstwhile human fire alarm, attempted to convince President Works at the adjournment of the Council yesterday that the League is right.

"It is not only not right, but it is contemptible on the part of the League," said Works to Edgerton. "The resolution should be withdrawn promptly because it does not tell the truth."

Edgerton insisted that former Councilman Wallace had "understanding" that the liquor laws as they exist are to be enforced, and "a little tramping up done," but otherwise there were to be no changes. Works said that he had no "understanding" with anyone.

SAYS CATERING FOR VOTES.

"I do not know nor care what understanding Wallace may have had," said Works. "I do know that I gave no promise of any kind, and no one was authorized to bind me, and so far as I know, and I believe I ought to know the Good Government candidates for Council gave no promise or assurance of any kind that they would avoid this or that kind of liquor legislation. The Municipal League and the Good Government organization are only catering to the votes of the liquor element by such a course because of the coming county campaign."

Edgerton gasped. He tried to say something about the Mayor's campaign utterances, but Works did not heed. He called up severally and individually, Andrew Edgerton, Lusk, O'Brien, Washburn and Williams and asked them if they understood themselves bound by any campaign assurance on the liquor question. Each said "no," and each "no" brought a new pallor to Edgerton's face.

"It must be plain," said Works, laughing. Edgerton said the league was right, at least in urging that the ordinance be submitted to the people. "I don't know why," said Works. "If the people are not satisfied with the ordinance they have the opportunity to vote on the referendum. I see no reason why the Council should hesitate in its duty and this line any more than every other."

Edgerton declares the understanding was general among all the Good Government parties that there was to be no attempt to pass drastic liquor laws and that the extreme measures under consideration are a violation of that understanding. Marshall Stimson, president of the Good Government organization, was at the City Hall yesterday, and he said "understanding" was "well understood."

"When we have abundant law to regulate the traffic and the people's interests give heed to the law, what is the use of going to extremes?" he said. "If the people want further steps in the control of the traffic they will be heard in no uncertain tone but for the present I should regard the laws sufficient with some clarification, to meet the situation."

BRAIN OF DOG SHOWS RABIES.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH HAS CERTAIN PROOF.

Muzzles May Save Many Lives of Canines and Humans in Spite of Doubters—Owners Threaten Suits Against Police—Little Beast With Large Peeve.

The rabies question was settled yesterday in a telegram from the State Board of Health at Berkeley to Dr. Alexander Moxley, stating that the brain of a dog formerly owned by the surgeon, was found to be infected with rabies.

There has been doubt in the minds of many who have argued that local dogs were suffering from nothing more serious than cramps. Superintendent Zimmer, of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, was one of the most emphatic in the statement that rabies did not exist here, and that only stomach-ache afflicted the supposedly mad dogs.

Dr. Moxley at his home, No. 523 South San Pedro street, noted the peculiar action of a pet animal. He decided to make an investigation that would bring positive results. He locked the dog up and when it died he sent the brain to Berkeley for investigation. The symptoms had been those of rabies. The investigation by the experts there verified Dr. Moxley's suspicions. Negri bodies in the brain are an irrefutable indication of the existence of rabies.

A little dog with a rather sickle appetite took up a position at Fremont avenue and Temple street yesterday morning and proceeded to bite as many pedestrians as possible. It succeeded in sending two victims to the Receiving Hospital, had chased several more, and was in the act of devouring a number of school children when an officer appeared.

Henry Osborne, 70 years of age, No. 565 Court Circle, was the first victim. Osborne is a laborer and was on his way to work when the dog swooped down on him and left his trademark on the calf of his left leg. Osborne hobbled to the Receiving Hospital.

GREAT STORE
OPENED WIDE.Visitors by Thousands Crowd
Mullen & Bluet's.Flower-Decked Stock Makes
a Dazzling Show.New Location for Old Firm
Is Celebrated.

With the opening of the great new store of the Mullen & Bluet Clothing Company in the Walter P. Bluet building at Sixth and Broadway, yesterday, Los Angeles has welcomed a very beautiful addition to the list of its expanded business establishments. It is undoubtedly one of the finest exclusive men's shops in the entire West—a perfect example of what can be produced in this city, since every piece of furniture, all of the window decorations, cases and other fixtures were made here.

That the good will of the public, and the trade in general, is with the firm was shown yesterday by the massed floral tributes which were scattered throughout the extensive store. They were a special decorative feature and gave the interior the appearance of a clothing store in the city of which are known only in New York and Chicago.

Start, Schaeffer & Marx, who distribute a large portion of their clothing in the Southwest through Mullen & Bluet, sent a great basket of American beauty roses. A horsehoe, twelve feet in height, a creation of red and white carnations, was the gift of the employees of the firm. Laurel wreaths, with centers of carnations, having the initials of the firm woven in flowers, baskets of lilies, hyacinths, anemones and countless others were distributed through the store.

At least 50,000 people crowded the aisles of the store from the time of opening at 9 o'clock in the morning until the close at 9 in the evening. They were not all men either, but many women and girls, coming to the store for the benefit of their male friends, who could not be present themselves.

The new store, occupying the entire ground floor and basement of the building, has a floor area of 25,000 square feet, every inch of which is utilized in the display of men's and boys' attire and accessories. The main floor is finished in a fine oak, the walls are paneled in mahogany and the window cases, and all of the considerable space in the rear and on one side of the establishment. On this side of the store, the firm, as well as the tailoring department, and the alterations department, are properly attired and equipped.

A large portion of the main floor is given over to men's clothing. All of the latest styles are kept in stock. This is a feature of the store, and it is possible for a salesman to slide back the glass and bring out the entire interior display in the fraction of a second. The racks are all fastened in any direction. There are no signs of any kind, and the store is a model of efficiency. The basement is a model of efficiency. The basement is a model of efficiency.

The basement was not entirely ready for the presentation yesterday. Broad stairs, which in reality are a part of the main floor, owing to the extension of the building to the street curb, under the sidewalk. In this case, the firm has fitted out work clothes of the most modern style, and the first floor Uniforms for conductors, motormen, postmen, etc., will be found in the basement. The new department will also be opened, and in the basement will be found a large number of the latest styles of men's clothing.

The windows are works of art. Like all the other things of the store, they have been planned and executed by Los Angeles people. Their design is in the style of "Jack" Schultz, who is considered to be one of the most expert window artists in the West, and having won many prizes in various exhibitions of golden rod adorned each individual window.

While the people passed in and out of the store and through the many departments, the attention was attracted by the evidence. The attention was attracted by the evidence. The attention was attracted by the evidence.

The Mullen & Bluet Clothing Company is one of the oldest firms in the city. It was established in 1883 by Walter P. Bluet, who held the interest in the firm until about five years ago, when he sold it to his partner, Mr. Mullen. Since that time, the firm has been under the management of Mr. Mullen, who has given it a new lease of life.

Mr. Mullen, who died in 1908, and gave the firm the name of Mullen & Bluet, was a man of great energy and business ability. He was a native of New York and came to Los Angeles in 1883. He was a member of the firm from its inception until his death.

The firm is now under the management of Mr. Mullen's son, Mr. Walter P. Bluet, who is a man of great energy and business ability. He is a native of New York and came to Los Angeles in 1883. He was a member of the firm from its inception until his death.

The Equitable Plan

Savings Accounts Without Interest Forfeiture

To Savings Bank Depositors:—

We are anxious that every bank depositor should appreciate the very fair plan we use for computing interest on savings deposits. We have eliminated, under normal conditions, the usual stipulation for six months' notice on withdrawals, and the excessive forfeiture of interest which such withdrawals have made.

Interest on both 4 per cent. savings accounts and 3 per cent. checking accounts is computed monthly. It is as easy to get money out as it is to put it in, and by using a little care, you can get interest on your money all the time.

Either Mr. Booth or the undersigned will be glad to explain the details to you.

LOS ANGELES STANDS HIGH FOR BUILDING IN FEBRUARY.

THE great building activity enjoyed by this city continues to be the wonder of construction circles the country over, reports compiled by the American Contractor of Chicago showing that Los Angeles in February again held an enviable high place in the list of American cities. In January the valuation of this city's building permits was exceeded only by the totals for New York, Chicago and Philadelphia. The record for February is almost as good, only Portland, in addition to the three leading cities of the country, leading Los Angeles, and that by a margin so small as to be almost negligible.

The publication quoted gives figures for forty-three centers. The aggregate shows a loss of 23 per cent. as compared with February, 1909. Of the forty-three cities, sixteen show a loss of from 4 to 73 per cent., and twenty-seven show a gain of from 2 to 67 per cent. Cities presenting a gain of 50 per cent. or more are: Birmingham, 66; Grand Rapids, 55; Louisville, 112; Louisville, 217; Los Angeles, 160; Manchester, 67; Minneapolis, 61; New Haven, 62; Salt Lake City, 65.

Wanted: want to exceed the maximum fixed at two or two.

What seemed to bring the change was the fact that a steel frame concrete building made a height of 150 feet, while an all-concrete structure must be thirty feet less.

Architect Halsey, representing Higgins, said this meant that tribute must be paid the steel trust if any person wanted to build a building of great height. He said the omission of steel in the Higgins building had saved $10,000 and that the building was superior in all respects.

Building Inspector Backus opposed the change on the ground that it would mean a height of 120 feet more and additional menace in case of seismic disturbance.

City Hall Briefs.

Councilman Andrews proposed a recommendation for the creation of the office of City Veterinarian at a session of the Legislation Committee yesterday. He said that there will be a veterinarian. Other members differed, but action was postponed.

Stausen-Playground is to be officially dedicated tomorrow, and President Works and the council will attend in a body.

The resignation of Dr. C. W. Bonyne, chief police surgeon, was accepted by the Council yesterday, but no successor named.

Chief Galloway's suggestion that street-car companies be required to display signs calling attention to the prohibition of smoking on the front of the cars was referred to the Legislative Committee by the Council yesterday.

That the Figueroa-street engine-house will not be built until after July 1 was shown yesterday when the Building Committee of the Board of Public Works was instructed to return all bids for the building of the engine-house to the Board of Public Works.

An ordinance placing the Temple Block property under the jurisdiction of the Board of Public Works was ordered by the Council yesterday.

The unusual scene of a step-daughter bringing a suit against her step-father to collect a note given by the father to the mother of the plaintiff was put on the boards in Judge Monroe's court yesterday. With the testimony of the witnesses present, the case was adjourned for thirty days to give the attorneys an opportunity to take the deposition of the mother, who is sick in Olympia, Wash.

The style of the case is Jennie B. Doane against J. E. Hughes, a business man of this city, to recover $5000 alleged to be due on a note, given June 15, 1908, by the defendant to Laura S. Hughes, his wife, and afterward assigned to the daughter for collection. It was set out in the complaint that no part of the note had been paid by Hughes.

The testimony developed the fact that there had been serious trouble in the home and that the suit was the outcome of the friction.

On account of the absence of the wife, as the evidence was limited to that of the defendant Hughes, and the plaintiff, Miss Doane, Hughes stated that he had given his wife the note, as alleged, on the day of her departure for the East on a visit. In June, 1908, in order that the wife should have a claim that amount against the estate of the defendant in the event that he should die while the wife was on the trip away from home.

He stated that when they had sold their property on Beacon street, soon after the making of the note, he deposited in bank to the credit of the wife, $7500, and that when he emigrated to Los Angeles, he carried with him $5000, of which amount about $500 had been repaid. He declared that on the day Mrs. Hughes left for the East it was agreed that the note should not create any liability against the defendant, but should be, and was understood to be, used only and solely as the basis of a claim against the estate of the witness in case of his death. The witness, however, testified that Laura S. Hughes took the assignment with a full knowledge of all the facts.

It was also shown by the witness that, subsequent to June 15, 1908, and prior to January 1, 1910, Hughes had advanced to Laura S. Hughes $7500, which had never been repaid. The witness said that all of the community property was in the hands of his wife, for the sake of convenience. The evidence of the plaintiff was to the effect that the money loaned to her was represented by the note, and it was denied emphatically that there was no consideration for it, as claimed by the defendant, her step-father.

On the part of the disgraced and humiliated wife. On account of the pressure of his friends, he was allowed to go on probation for three years.

H. A. Freeman, charged with grand larceny, pleaded not guilty, and his hearing was set for April 12.

W. H. Garland, also facing a similar charge, pleaded not guilty, and he will have an opportunity of convincing a jury April 12.

JUDICIAL ANNIVERSARY.

Yesterday was the first anniversary of Superior Judge W. R. Hervey's service on the local bench, and he was the recipient of many congratulations. A beautiful bouquet of lilies graced the bench in his department, and in his chambers a handsome collection of white and purple lilies attracted the attention of all callers.

It was on March 10, 1909, that Judge Hervey began business in the present grand jury room, and his department was then known as No. Eleven. When the Hall of Justice was completed and Judges Willis and Davis removed to Bausen Vista street, Judge Hervey took possession of Judge Hutton's old courtroom, and he was assigned to Department Seven.

Most important litigation has been disposed of by Judge Hervey during the course of the year, and he has set down to his credit that in that time have been but three appeals perfected on decisions given in his court. That is a record that counts for something.

BABCOCK GUILTY.

O. F. Babcock, charged with committing a criminal assault upon Mecca Byler, was found guilty of making an assault with intent to commit the crime, by the jury in Judge Willis's court, yesterday morning, after the body had spent the night deliberating upon a verdict. Under the law the punishment for such an offense is imprisonment from one to fourteen years.

Babcock received the message that means so much to him with the stoicism of an Indian, and showed no sign of perturbation of any description. His old mother, who sat by his side during the entire hearing, was present, and she was much more affected by the verdict than the defendant. Babcock had been long since resigned to his fate.

The court announced that the sentence of Babcock would take place Monday. He thought that it was that at that time a motion for a new trial will be made in behalf of the defendant.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

W. R. Hervey, a writ has been asked for by H. H. Heath to compel John S. Myers, City Treasurer, to draw a warrant in favor of Heath for $4.50, on a judgment secured against Thomas W. Young in an action heard in the justice's court. A transcript of the judgment was filed in the office of the City Treasurer, but payment was refused.

Young is an engineer in the employ of the city.

SMALL ESTATE. In her will, filed for probate yesterday, Annie Laurie Johnson forgot her grandchildren, Lita B. Johnson and Loring O. Johnson, and bequeathed her estate, valued at about $1500, to Mrs. Anna Dastweiler, a friend, who is also named as executrix.

INCORPORATIONS. Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday by Raymond Teeter Company, capital stock $75,000, incorporators Raymond Teeter, D. Z. Gardner, T. F. Phillips, R. Drackett and F. W. G. Green, subscribers in 1908. Encyclopaedia Holding Company, capital stock $10,000, incorporators Robert McConnochie, W. H. Cornell, G. Grant Gillette, John J. Welch and George M. Connor, subscribers $500; S. A. Brown & Co., capital stock $100,000, incorporators S. A. Brown, A. Brown, Frank E. Brown, Elbert C. Sisson and A. F. Clarke, subscribers $500; Pacific Coast House Builders, capital stock $25,000, incorporators J. Brent Harding, A. E. Merrill, W. A. Patterson, S. A. Burdette, J. M. Ordway, J. M. Patterson, W. A. Sampson, L. K. Parks, John W. Hunterberger and T. L. Patterson, subscribers $10,000.

WILL CARE FOR BROTHERS.

Almira Ferguson, sister of Bertram Ferguson, a prominent Los Angeles young man, who recently reached Los Angeles from their former home in England, announced yesterday that she would care for her unfortunate relatives for one year, and the charge of insanity lodged against them was dismissed.

STONES ARRANGED. In Judge Davis's court yesterday, George A. Stone and Clara Stone were arraigned on the ground of killing Morgan Shively at San Gabriel, the night of January 1, last. A demurrer to the complaint was overruled, and the accused then pleaded not guilty. The case was set for hearing May 9, and the trial should be had for each.

SEVERAL ANNULMENTS. Marie C. Cole brought an action to annul her marriage with Robert E. Cole, in the Superior Court, yesterday, on the ground that she was incapable of entering the married state. They were wedded in San Francisco, January, 1909.

INVOLVING SALE OF AUTO.

William Brill sued P. A. Lord and the Lord Motor Car Company to recover $1500, alleged to be due on account of a motor car sold to him by the company in the sale of what was to be a Studebaker touring car, that did not come up to specifications and was a high grade and latest type of the machine. It is alleged that the machine secured by Brill was charged with fraud by the Lord Motor Car Company, and that he was supposed to be investing his money in it.

BITTERLY CONTESTED. Judge Houser yesterday heard the contested divorce action brought by Lucie Kavanaugh, a milliner, against Robert Kavanaugh, and the testimony will be taken on the Fourteenth Page.

Albert Kiehl, charged with violating his parole, will be up for judgment today. Kiehl is the young man who committed forgery in order to secure a bill of jewelry at a local shop to adorn his intended bride, whom he had told he was just returning from a short time after the wedding he was arrested, to be released later on by an amendment.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Council has set the Plant nomination primary for May 17, and the election for June 14.

Prillington, charged with stealing the plaintiff's property as well as his dog, was arraigned before Judge Halsey in the Police Court yesterday.

GREAT STORE
OPENED WIDE.Visitors by Thousands Crowded
Mullen & Bluet's.Flower-Decked Stock Makes
a Dazzling Show.New Location for Old Firm
Is Celebrated.

With the opening of the great new store of the Mullen & Bluet Clothing Company in the Walter P. Story building, at Sixth and Broadway, yesterday, Los Angeles has welcomed a very beautiful addition to the list of its exclusive retail establishments. It is undoubtedly one of the finest exclusive men's shops in the entire West—a perfect example of what can be produced in this city, since every piece of furniture, all of the window decorations, cases and other fixtures were made here.

That the good will of the public, and the trade in general, is with the firm was shown yesterday by the magnificent floral tributes which were scattered throughout the extensive store. They were a special decorative feature and gave the immense interior the appearance of a clothing show, the like of which are known only in New York and Chicago.

Bar. Schaeffer & Marx, who distribute a large portion of the clothing in the Southwest through Mullen & Bluet, sent a great basket of American-made roses. A horseshoe, twelve feet in height, a creation of red and white carnations, was the gift of the employees of the firm. Laurel wreaths, hats of carnations, having the initials of the firm woven in flowers, baskets of lilies, hyacinths, anemones and countless others were distributed through the store.

At least 50,000 people crowded the sides of the store from the time of opening, a throng that continued until the close of the afternoon. They were not all men either, but many women and girls, getting pointers for the benefit of their male friends, who could not be present themselves.

ACRES OF SPACE.
The new store, occupying the entire ground floor and basement of the building, has a floor area of 23,000 square feet, every inch of which is utilized in the placement of men's and boys' suits and accessories. The main floor is all finished in a fumed oak, the new wood being used in manufacture of the window cases, and all of the new cases, a massive floor occupying considerable space in the rear and on one side of the establishment. On this side of the building is the office of the firm, as well as the tailoring department, where suits are properly altered and pressed.

A large portion of the main floor is given over to men's clothing. All of the higher grades are kept in glass cases. This is a distinctly new feature, it is possible for a salesman to slide open the glass doors and bring out the suits for display. The suits are all fastened in a way which allows them to swing in any direction. There are yards and yards of cases containing shirts, undershirts, ties, collars, hose and other accessories to a man's attire. In one corner is located the boys' department. Every possible pattern has been arranged and is to be found in the clothing. The main floor is a rooming room for them and the boys' department is all found on the main floor. The attractive arrangement of it is attributed to the assistance of Peter Jensen, a store artist who has designed the entire interior.

The basement was not entirely ready for presentation yesterday. Broad cases, which in reality is much larger than the main floor, owing to the extension of the building to the street level, under the sidewalk. In this new the firm has fitted out work cases and will keep a large line of clothing of cheaper grades than those shown on the first floor. Uniforms for men and conductors, motormen, policemen and others will be found in large display there. A new department also is opened, one in which men's suits, trunks and other traveling paraphernalia will be located.

WINDOWS WORKS OF ART.
The windows are works of art. Like the interior of the store, they have all been planned and executed by Los Angeles people. Their decorations are the work of "Jack" Schultz, who is considered to be one of the most expert window artists in the West, having won several prizes in various contests in the United States. Great bunches of golden red adorned each individual window.

With the people passed in and out of the store and through the many departments, Arnold's orchestra was in the basement. The attendants of the store distributed post cards bearing the new building.

Arthur B. Mullen, manager of the company, expressed himself as greatly pleased with the manner in which the public responded to the invitation to the present.

The establishment typifies the aggressive business spirit which prevails throughout Los Angeles, said Mr. Mullen. "We have endeavored to make more than it has ever been in the past, by the electric light fixtures, cases, done right in the work has been shown that has stood for the success of the firm in the past."

The Mullen & Bluet Clothing Company is one of the oldest firms in the city. It was established in 1883 by W. E. Bluet, who held his interest in the firm until about five years ago, when he died. He was succeeded by his son, Andrew Mullen, who died two years ago, and gave the firm the name which it bears at this time.

The company was incorporated with Mrs. Mary T. Mullen, M. R. Mullen, vice-president, J. B. Sullivan, secretary, and Arthur B. Mullen, general manager, as officers.

The proposed American institute for the study of the history of the United States, has for its object, according to a memorandum issued by the United States Department of Education, the interchange of culture between the United States and Germany.

FIFTEEN FEET ACROSS.

Immense Headgear Worn by Los Angeles Girl at a Party Last Night.

The largest merry widow hat in the world was worn last night in Los Angeles. It measures a little over fifteen feet from edge to edge and was made and worn by Miss Katherine Gessner, No. 522 West Vernon avenue. It took first prize for the largest hat at the party where its owner appeared with it.

It required three days of hard labor to complete the hat. For its construction one and one-half dozen rolls of crepe paper, and one dozen yards of cloth were required. The frame is made from bamboo sticks and stiff wires. A number of imitation plumes adorn the crown, and the completed hat weighs nearly fifteen pounds—a heavy load to carry on the head for an entire evening.

To secure the hat upon her head, Miss Gessner used several yards of wide ribbon, and walking down the street she is almost completely hidden, all that can be seen from the rear being a pair of heels and the headgear. Without difficulty eight persons can stand under it and all be sheltered, and according to the young lady, it would make an ideal hat to wear upon the beach.

CONFIRMS ANNOUNCEMENT.
Studebaker Says Merger Is a Fact and Details Are Soon to Be Forthcoming.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SOUTH BEND (Ind.), March 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] J. M. Studebaker, president of the Studebaker Company, today confirmed the announcement of the gigantic automobile merger sent out from New York and Detroit yesterday, stating that the story was substantially correct. Further than this he had nothing to say.

Col. George Studebaker, Clement Studebaker, and Frederick Fish, who planned the consolidation, will return to South Bend tomorrow and an official statement will then be made. Notwithstanding the silence of the Studebakers concerning their plans, it is taken for granted that South Bend will be the headquarters of the combine and that this city will be the distributing point for the output of the factories in the combination.

It was said here today that the Simplex Automobile Company of Milwaukee is including in the merger, but up to tonight it has been impossible to secure a statement from the officials of that concern.

PAULHAN MAKES READY.

To Give Exhibition Flight in New York Today—Bond Given to Satisfy Court Order.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
NEW YORK, March 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Louis Paulhan has at last more than hopes of flying his Farman biplane and Bleriot monoplane in the State. For a time it appeared as if the injunction which the Wright brothers had obtained restraining the French aviator from making any public flights, or even using or exhibiting his imported machines, would bar him from doing so. But a way was found out of the difficulty. Paulhan gave bond in the amount asked for, and he will now be permitted to make a trial and exhibition flight here.

Immediately he heard of this arrangement of the legal contest, Paulhan had his machine shipped to the Jamaica race track. All this afternoon a large staff of mechanics worked against time under his direction, assembling the larger of the two Farman machines, one equipped with the seven cylinder, 40-horse-power Gnome motor.

Some time tomorrow morning Paulhan will make exhibition flights for the benefit of a few invited guests. He has not yet determined on his programme for even the near future.

New York City's Commissioner of Docks and Ferries is the latest to join the crusade for economy in public office. He announced yesterday the laying off of sixty-one ferry employees, saving in salaries about $20,000 a year.

Miss Agnes Getz and Miss Cox and Miss Ethel Gels, who will punch the scores.

San Francisco.
Mrs. Joseph Bauer and Miss Frances Adams of San Francisco are guests of the Anglians. They will remain in the city several weeks.

At the Anglians.
Mrs. J. Alden West and Mrs. E. Alden Tucker entertained yesterday with a luncheon at the Anglians in honor of Mrs. Dismock B. Cummings, of Fresno, who is the house guest of Mrs. G. Rupert Johnson of this city. Covers were laid for Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Arthur Brown, Mrs. L. L. Shetter, Mrs. Miss Gertrude Johnson, Mrs. Charles Gardner, Miss Edith McGinnis, Mrs. J. J. Tucker, Mrs. Cummings and Mrs. West.

Mrs. Goldsborough Hostess.
Mrs. and Mr. Frederick L. Goldsborough of No. 423 Wesley avenue entertained members of the Olive Whist club last evening with a Dutch supper. The table was elegantly set and the guests were entertained on cards bearing sketches of Dutch scenes. The guests were Mrs. Charles Morris and Mrs. C. L. Raynor. The guests were Mrs. and Mrs. Charles Morris and Mrs. B. Duke, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Milford Florence, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Winter, Mr. and Mrs. H. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. Anderson.

Miss Mary L. Storum of Hollywood recently entertained with a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Nettie A. Kirkham. Whist and dancing were enjoyed and prizes were captured by Miss Mary Suman and Mr. Wright. Those present were Miss Sadie E. Un-

Kind Hearts—Good Deeds.
"How far that little candle throws his light—
How good a deed in a naughty world is shined."

The Associated Charities of Detroit and Hiram College are eventually to each receive a bequest of $125,000 under the will of the late H. Newman. During the life of his daughter, Mrs. A. W. Ruple, she is to receive the income of $25,000, but on her death the fund goes to the two institutions named.

A memorial fund, to yield $4000 a year, has been established by Mrs. Robert L. Stevens of New York, for constructive civic work in Hoboken. It is to be known as the "Robert Livingston Stevens Fund for Municipal Research." He was a son of the founder of Stevens Institute in Hoboken, and a very useful memorial this ought to be.

The pluck of Reupel Elmqvist, an 18-year-old boy, prevented a disastrous wreck at Mankato, Minn. It is Elmqvist's custom to go to his home in Sullivan, four miles north, on the evening freight train. In trying to board the caboose he slipped and fell beneath the wheels and one foot was badly mangled.

When the crew saw he had fallen to get aboard, the train was stopped and backed up, after proceeding some distance. Elmqvist noticed, and, knowing that the north-bound train city passenger was almost due, and that the track was supposed to be clear, he dragged himself over the snow in the telegraph office, where he was the operator, and wired the following message:

"My foot is cut off and No. 271 is coming back to pick me up. She will have to have help against it, which is due in Mankato in a few minutes. Then he fainted and fell across his track. When the freight train arrived, the crew put the boy on board and brought him to his home. The bones were protruding from the flesh of his foot, but it is possible the member may be saved."

Funds for the Babies' Dispensary and Hospital Association at Cleveland are to be raised by a special Easter sale of postal cards. The cards are to be placed in every store and shop if possible, and the fund realized from the sale to go toward the building fund of the Babies' Hospital planned in connection with the dispensary. The post card carries the little baby picture, with the wording, "A small one on the address side is a little sermonette about the work of the institution. The plan in selling these cards is two-fold, to earn money and to carry far and wide a little thought about the work for babies which the dispensary is doing."

The recent death of James West of Washington, O., recalls an interesting event in his life. Years ago in Washington, D. C., James West was the star of the summer days he spent on the Potomac River. There he was when a boat of one day was sailing, capsized, West plunged to the woman's aid and swam to the shore, bearing her body. Then he returned for the husband and assisted him ashore. Both were reunited. Both desired to reward West.

Mrs. Peyton Hostess.
Another smart affair of yesterday was the luncheon and bridge party which had for its hostess Mrs. I. N. Peyton of No. 1546 St. Andrews Place, who entertained in compliment to her guests, Mrs. Harry Raymer, a sister of Mr. Peyton, and Mrs. C. W. Ide of Seattle. Other special guests included friends from Spokane, Wash., Mrs. J. P. Graves, Mrs. Clyde Graves, Mrs. Percy Wreath, Mrs. Frank McLaughlin, Mrs. D. W. Twohy, Mrs. Arthur Covey and Miss Corneille Parland. The other guests were Mrs. Walter Perry, Mrs. George Burkhardt, Goldsmith, Mrs. F. H. Snowden, Mrs. Wolcott Race, Mrs. John Raymond Powers, Mrs. John W. McAlister, Mrs. Henderson Hayward, Mrs. F. W. Larned, Mrs. Josephine Gibbs, Mrs. R. De Witt Nesbitt, Mrs. D. H. Brown, Mrs. Percy Powell, Mrs. Erasmus Wilson, Mrs. Valentine Peyton, Mrs. Huber Basher, Mrs. Lewis Clark Carlisle and Mrs. W. W. Neuer. In the reception hall and living-rooms great clusters of alcazarcos were used, while hundreds of bunches of violets formed a pretty setting in the dining-room. A handsome lace cloth over the table adorned the centerpiece, which had for its centerpiece a hand-painted bowl filled with violets. Payors of these flowers completed the attractive arrangement. An excellent program of harp music by Mrs. J. M. Jones was enjoyed.

Invitations Issued.
Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Brent of Berkeley Square have issued invitations for reception to be given at their new country place on Sunday. This home has just been completed, and is situated on a 18-acre ranch near Chino. The congregation of their friends at this place will be in the afternoon.

The following guests have been invited: Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Bobrick, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowles, Mr. and Mrs. B. Blinn, Mr. and Mrs. William Dowland, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. McGee, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hagan, Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Jay, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Mead, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Coffey, Mr. and Mrs. Will Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bagley, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Van Vleet, Mr. and Mrs. R. Marquardt, Mr. and Mrs. Mabel Kingman, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. be repaid," the woman told him. Fifty years afterward West was a pauper in Richmond county. By chance correspondence with a friend in Washington, he learned that a law firm of that city was advertising for "one James West, who saved a bride and groom from drowning in the Potomac River in 1859." West submitted evidence that he was the man the firm sought. A check for the accumulated interest on an estate left him by the rescued woman came. He went to Washington, claimed the property and once more was independent.

By the will of Mathias Holenbeck Arnot, disposing of an estate valued at $3,000,000, to $10,000,000, which was probated at Elmira, N. Y., the city of Elmira receives his art gallery, with an endowment fund and his home, together valued at $80,000.

MAY BE FATALITY HURT.
Clerk for Wrecking Company Falls from Car and Sustains Concussion of the Brain.

Falling from the platform of a San Pedro street car, B. H. Edwards, a clerk for the Whiting Wrecking Company, received injuries which will probably result fatally.

The accident occurred shortly before 7 o'clock last night and was probably not witnessed by any member of the car crew. Edwards was standing alone on the platform when he lost his balance as the car neared Pico street. F. C. Sommers, No. 74 East Fourth street, saw a shadowy form drop into the street and ran to the fallen man. He found him unconscious and called for help. G. F. Prince, No. 80 East Twenty-seventh street was passing in an automobile and he took the man in his car to the Receiving Hospital.

Police surgeons found that Edwards had concussion of the brain and a basal fracture of the skull. In spite of the serious nature of his injuries the man was calm and rational. He was, however, unable to remember how he came to fall from the car and refused to believe that he was seriously hurt.

Cakes Decorated to Order.
We are prepared to make to order for parties of all kinds and special decorations. Cakes should be placed early.

Table Favors and Confections For St. Patrick's Day.
If St. Patrick himself could see the clever and original table decoration ideas we have prepared in his memory, he would surely feel highly honored.

Miniature green hats, Little Hods, Irish Flaps, Irish Harps, Green Pigs, Green Paper Cases, with green paper doilies to match. Snapping Bonbons in appropriate designs, and many varieties of green candies of typical Jevne quality.

The originality is really interesting—but it's best to make your selections early for early choosing means broadest choosing.

MECHANICS FAIR.

Fiesta Park Under Canvas to House a Large Exposition of Business Interests.

Los Angeles, so far as its commercial and shopping district is concerned, is to be duplicated in miniature at Fiesta Park for two weeks, beginning the 26th inst., under the two-acre canvas that sheltered the automobile show and its 20,000 incandescent lights.

The aisles will be laid out to conform to Los Angeles, Main, Spring, Broadway and Hill streets, with a region for the surrounding cities, and manufacturers and retail merchants will be able to place their exhibits in the miniature downtown district on the streets where they are now located, with abundant room for newcomers.

Although the 75,000 feet of floor space will be laid out for 350 exhibitors, there will be ample room for 10,000 visitors. All the beautiful scenic and lighting effects of the auto show will be retained, but rearranged, and in addition there will be other features of decoration consistent with the character of the bustling business bazaar that is planned.

The exhibition will be called the Mechanics Fair, and will be modeled after the expositions of the Mechanics Pavilion of San Francisco, except that the great area here admits of the combination of all manufacturing, mercantile and retail displays in one scene. To prepare the stadium of Fiesta Park for this event an expense of about $10,000 will be incurred in the structural work, and the additional decorations and conveniences necessary for it.

Resides the daily exhibition from 10 o'clock each morning until 11 o'clock each night there will be free hand concerts daily and free high class vaudeville. The Mechanics Fair Association projected the enterprise.

EARLY ANGELENO DEAD.

Man Who Established First Local Newspaper Route Passes Away

While in Europe.

News has reached here of the death of R. H. Dalton at Nice, France. He passed away on February 22 and no doubt his family will be given at his death and grief that it was Washington's Birthday at home.

These few lines will be read with much interest by the old-timers in this city. Dalton was an early Los Angeles man, and enjoyed the distinction of having established the first newspaper route in the city. He also built one of the first houses on Bunker Hill, at Second street and Grand avenue, then known as Charity street. The house is still standing.

In early days Dalton married, Mrs. Carrie Hereford, who had lived with her mother and sister, Dora, on Aliso street below Los Angeles street. Their house was a brick cottage, the gable turned toward the street. It still stands.

Mrs. Dalton was a niece of Judge Hereford of San Gabriel, and her sister, Dora, married a San Diego man named Howard, at one time the principal banker of that city.

From here R. H. Dalton went to Portland, Ore., more than thirty years ago, and later came back to Los Angeles. Later he came back South and settled at San Diego, still continuing his newspaper business.

For several years past he and Mrs. Dalton have been traveling in Europe.

FACTS, FEATURES AND FINES FOR WOMEN

BY OLIVE GRAY.

It pays to come down town, these days, just to see the stores, even if you cannot buy! They are the blossoming of the season, and each is beautiful in its own particular way.

One of the big Broadway houses has captured spring, and set her store ablaze with the great alms and embowered in the delicious purple of the blooms, scores of little canaries sing happily in their gilt cages, the whole day long.

In another store it is cherry blossom time. A big cherry tree is set before the hospitable door, and cherry blossoms decorate the entire house within. It is a beautiful sight, and the shopkeeper, and serves cakes and tea to the most casual buyer.

"When I'm tired, nervous, or blue," I heard a burdened housewife say, "I go down town and just look around, and I am rejuvenated. There is something inspiring about a crowd, and the color and beauty displayed in the stores, is sure to raise one's spirits."

What an arbitrary person is Dame Fashion! And yet she manages to make use of all the latest fashions, and isn't it odd how, when once she has discovered, and set the seal of her straightway becomes beautiful, and much to be desired? Not only in the realm of clothes, fabric, cut, form and even conduct, does she hold sway, but over bird, beast and fowl. Just now, the chancier has come into fashion, favoring "Chancellor," the French have it, so here is another complication in spelling! Roeland's play of the same name, however, is a different fowl into great prominence, and all the world has gone chancier mad. Monsieur is common in men's heads, and his head appears upon buttons, upon bonnets, as though emerging from their depths, and, yesterday, saw him planted boldly and not in miniature, either, but about the size of a hat, upon the head of a woman.

In one of the high-class furniture stores, I saw one of the straw-edged wicker chairs, with a gray head, and the glass of the pretty household article was a beautiful bronze colored. The chancier, however, is really a beautiful creature, if we did find out only after Dame Fashion had pointed her finger at him. He is cheerful and encouraging, more so than the very personification of masculine ugliness, or shall we politely call it "chancier"? The Japanese, however, discovered, long ago, the possibilities of the gorgeous chancier, and embodied him in their art. Well, if you wish to be in the extreme of fashion, you must now have chancier, upon your toilet, in some manner.

What One Must Have.

And speaking of what one must have: isn't it surprising that what one thinks she must have, differs so widely from what another feels to be indispensable? I chanced to overhear in passing, one lady exclaim to another, "There! That trial! I just must have one!" The next words uttered were a part of a conversation between two women, and one was saying, "I simply must have one of those little finger rings." Quite a difference in their tastes, wasn't there. The first wish, it would seem, was something under $1000 to gratify; the last, $5.

It is a fact, that one of those coveted things, for the little finger, can be bought for $5. They are very attractive, and are really good in design and workmanship, too. Large stones are used, and are elaborately set in intricate, or "pinkie" rings, as they are called, and are worn without other designs and settings. The cheapness of these rings, is due to the fact that they are made of a synthetic material, and are really good in design and workmanship, too. FACTS, FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN

BY OLIVE GRAY.

It pays to come down town, these days, just to see the stores, even if you cannot buy. They are blossoming with the season, and each is beautiful in its own particular way.

One of the big Broadway houses has expanded spring, and set her in the midst of the great alpine and embowed forest of the delicate purple of the blossoms, and each is beautiful in its own particular way.

In another store it is cherry blossom time. A big cherry tree is set before the hospitable door, and cherry blossoms decorate the entire house within.

Hospitable, indeed, is this establishment, for it welcomes even the shop-lifter, and serves cakes and tea to the most casual buyer.

"Woe I'm tired, or nervous, or blue," I heard a burdened housewife say, "I go down town and just look around, and I am rejuvenated."

There is something inspiring about a crowd, and the color and beauty of the things in the stores, is sure to raise one's spirits.

What an arbitrary person is Dame Fashion! And yet she manages to make us all believe that her ways are right. Isn't it odd how, when once she has discovered, and set the seal of her approval upon anything, it is immediately become beautiful and much to be desired? Not only in the realm of clothes, fabrics, cut, form, color, and sometimes banded in gold, over all, are expensive and beautiful.

Crepe evening gowns have a tucker embroidered in oriental patterns and colors.

Embroidery is upon everything. Hand embroidery if possible, machine embroidery, if you will, but embroidery, at all hazards.

Silver lace is beautiful, and would trim a gray chiffon gown to perfection.

A jersey-fitting waist and tunic combined, in all-over braiding, over a skirt of soft silk, was rather startling in "St. Patrick's green."

An Alice blue waist and tunic, in one, of all-over embroidery, is among the innovations in summer gowns.

Some of the Irish crochet coats are new in shape and complicated in workmanship.

Gold net, embroidered in long gold beads, made up tunic style, over white, with scarf and roses of delicate blue, was worn by one of the blisse ladies in a Broadway window.

Forget-me-nots in masses, or in flat designs set close upon the body of the hat, are a novelty.

A hand bag of gilt leather is a fad of the moment.

Netted yokes in gold or silver give a needed touch to dark gowns.

A silver-meshed hand bag, as large as the largest ones in leather, is an elegant-looking accessory.

All the toy dogs in one of the store windows were muscled the day the ordinance went into effect.

Accident Near San Luis Obispo Costs Southern Pacific Immense Sum for Repairs and Rerouting of Freight and Passengers—Expert Work Prevents Delays.

Local officers of the Southern Pacific received word last night that the Coast line will be opened for traffic some time today and that trains between Los Angeles and San Francisco may take up their regular schedule.

This follows hard upon the announcement of the opening of the Union Pacific's line East from San Francisco and means that the Harriman lines are now ready for complete operation across the continent.

you will, by the good word, give her new heart. Above all, do not fail to say that she is looking well today. Assuming, of course, that it is a fact. Praise her, given, if it is pretty; her hat, if it is becoming.

Local officers of the Southern Pacific received word last night that the Coast line will be opened for traffic some time today and that trains between Los Angeles and San Francisco may take up their regular schedule.

This follows hard upon the announcement of the opening of the Union Pacific's line East from San Francisco and means that the Harriman lines are now ready for complete operation across the continent.

The closing of the Coast line has cost the Southern Pacific an enormous sum. In the first place the tunnel had to be recleared and concreted.

This work was done in the best manner possible and cost approximately $200,000, for the entire tunnel was concreted and the whole forty-five feet of cave has been removed.

Aside from the cost of rebuilding the tunnel the Southern Pacific has been a great expense through the rerouting of freight. This was done so quickly by the traffic department that no freight has been allowed to stand idle at any point on the system. It has also been delivered with little loss of time.

In some cases, especially in regard to the Union Pacific, this rerouting has been at the greatest expense, for other, and even rival lines have been used. Delayed freight shipped over a rival road costs the shipping line an excessively high tariff and in every case this tariff has been paid immediately without unnecessary delay of time to facilitate the delivery of goods and to prevent congestion at any point.

Passenger trains were routed either through the valley line south from Fresno or through the Portland gateway from San Francisco. There has been no unnecessary delay in handling the business and the trains have been arriving practically on time since the beginning of the trouble.

The valley line has been crowded to capacity, however, and the men have been forced to work long shifts. As a result of the trouble the records for the local freight yards have been broken and more traffic has been handled here than at any time in the past three years.

opposite Arlington, by July 1, next. Buckeye is about thirty-three miles southwest of Phoenix, and Arlington is fifteen miles farther. The country is level and the only obstacle is the Agua Fria River, which has a channel more than half a mile broad, usually dry. As far as the river, the way will be through a rich farming country, and beyond the road will parallel the Buckeye canal and tap the country it irrigates.

It is denied most strongly that the project is a Southern Pacific one, though the route is that which must be followed in the event that road builds its long-projected Phoenix-Yuma line. Mr. Landis states, however, that the road would undoubtedly be turned over to the Southern Pacific if that company chose to pay the price that would be asked. But the promoters have agreed to build the road in the most substantial manner, with at least sixty-five-pound steel, and to spend at least $1,000,000 in its construction and equipment. A maximum 2-cent fare is stipulated. The matter has been thus far in the hands of a local company, which will be pleased to transfer its organization to Mr. Raymond or to the Southern Pacific. An effort is being made to raise the increased bonus.

A deal has been closed whereby the Arizona-Eastern, Pacific branch road, will become owner of a half block of land lying just east of its present depot site, which has been wholly inadequate in length, if not in size. The average train has had to be cut in two, in order not to block Center street. It is possible that the additional area secured will bring nearer the long-cherished plan of a union depot for the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe roads, which now have separate depots only a few hundred feet apart.

It is probable, also, that a move will soon be made for the building of a viaduct for Center street traffic over the tracks of both roads. The price paid for the additional ground was $27,000, which brings up to about $200,000 the investments of the Southern Pacific in this city during the past couple of years. It has been spent along the line of the road, including one quarter-section southeast of the city and a forty-acre tract south of the eastern part of the city. Either tract would be available for shops or roundhouses. All of this confirms the necessity of the plan in their strong opinion that this city is to have main-line status before very long.

THEY'RE COMING SLOWLY.

Applications for Yuma government lands are daily decreasing. Though more than 2300 registrations were made on the first day of the opening, so far, about 730 have applied for farms at the land office. Receiver Robinson urges all who intend to select a farm unit to do so at once, as it will be impossible to receive a list of applications on the closing day, the 19th inst.

The Albuquerque Commercial Club has protested against the government appropriating funds for work on the Elephant Butte dam, on the ground that the latter would irrigate only 110,000 acres in New Mexico and would prevent the irrigation of 400,000 acres on the upper Rio Grande.

SANTA FE TRAFFIC GROWS.

Santa Fe traffic is on the increase. In spite of the lateness of the season, and J. J. Byrne stated yesterday afternoon that the road has definitely decided to put a second section to the California Limited, not only west, but east-bound, beginning the 22nd inst. This extra train will run from Los ANGELES every Tuesday during the month of April, and the latter part of March, and probably will have to be handled on other days as well.

In the meantime, the colonist rates are daily bringing hundreds of new residents into Los Angeles, and will continue to do so until the middle of April.

Vice-President of a Philadelphia Oil Company Declares Not Over 20,000 Unionites Out.

"Reports of the strike in Philadelphia have been greatly exaggerated," said Arthur J. Pew, vice-president of the Sun Oil Company of that city, who with his wife, his mother, Mrs. Joseph N. Pew and Miss Mabel Pew, arrived yesterday at the Alexandria.

"There are not more than 20,000 labor unionists striking at the present time. The violence of the mobs has been enlarged upon greatly by a sensational press. The few who are injured daily would not average nearly the number injured in the strikes of the coal miners in the central part of the State at various periods, or the strike of the street-car men in Chicago a few years ago."

"All of the conservative people of Philadelphia are opposed to the present labor troubles, although they may not be in sympathy with the Traction Company. The matter might have been adjusted in a peaceable manner had proper diplomacy been used at the opening of the affair. It is really laughable to read of 100,000 men walking the streets in idleness. Very few of the industries have been at all affected."

"Only the street car traffic has been demoralized. The breaking of a few windows in the cars, the smashing of a few heads and the firing of a few shots has assumed national importance according to many accounts printed. Really, however, there is little fear for personal harm to any one in Philadelphia who travels along minding his own personal business."

Though more than 2300 registrations were made on the first day of the opening, so far, about 730 have applied for farms at the land office. Vice-President of a Philadelphia Oil Company Declares Not Over 20,000 Unionites Out.

"Reports of the strike in Philadelphia have been greatly exaggerated," said Arthur J. Pew, vice-president of the Sun Oil Company of that city, who with his wife, his mother, Mrs. Joseph N. Pew and Miss Mabel Pew, arrived yesterday at the Alexandria.

"There are not more than 20,000 labor unionists striking at the present time. The violence of the mobs has been enlarged upon greatly by a sensational press. The few who are injured daily would not average nearly the number injured in the strikes of the coal miners in the central part of the State at various periods, or the strike of the street-car men in Chicago a few years ago."

"All of the conservative people of Philadelphia are opposed to the present labor troubles, although they may not be in sympathy with the Traction Company. The matter might have been adjusted in a peaceable manner had proper diplomacy been used at the opening of the affair. It is really laughable to read of 100,000 men walking the streets in idleness. Very few of the industries have been at all affected."

"Only the street car traffic has been demoralized. The breaking of a few windows in the cars, the smashing of a few heads and the firing of a few shots has assumed national importance according to many accounts printed. Really, however, there is little fear for personal harm to any one in Philadelphia who travels along minding his own personal business."

ATTRACTED BY a display of fireworks in the show window of a downtown sporting goods house yesterday morning, Fredrick K. Arnold, superintendent of the Portland Safe Deposit Company, stopped long enough to purchase a revolver with which to commit suicide a few minutes later at his hotel.

Arnold had been sick for some time. He arrived in Los Angeles from Portland Wednesday afternoon, and registered at the Hotel Hamilton. Despite his age, years, and his illness, Arnold was the habit of rising early and taking a walk.

In the store he carefully picked out a .38 Smith & Wesson revolver, and then went to his room in the Hamilton Annex. There he put it in his right temple and fired.

The report attracted attention on the floor, and the management was notified. The clerk had seen Arnold enter the store, and he was the only one who could hardly realize what had happened. An investigation of the man fully dressed and lying on the floor, the revolver, purchased a short time before, clutched in his hand.

Arnold's friend, accompanied by a nurse, was summoned to the room. The report was true. Arnold was almost prostrated by the time he was taken to the hospital. He never regained consciousness, and he died yesterday morning.

It is believed that Arnold was suffering from a heart ailment, and that the shock of the explosion was the final blow.

to the City Hall, taxpayers, and others. More mileage of street car service can be reached from this point without transfer, than from any other. Then again, it is about central as to distance. If we except the "Shoe String Strip," considering the greatest good to the greatest number, it is accomplished when the city building is located at the junction of Spring and Main streets.

Shortly city and county consolidation must come. It is well to be prepared for it.

It is logical to group all the public buildings, Federal, State, city and county, and I think that the city has done a wise thing in making this purchase.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

PASADENA. GREEN TO ADD TO BIG HOTEL.

Architect Is Instructed to Prepare Plans.

Sixty Thousand Dollars Will Be Expended.

Offer of Consulate Made to Throp Professor.

Office of The Times, No. 28 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, March 11.—Col. G. O. Green definitely announced last night that the Hotel Green to be improved with an addition which will be built during the coming summer and will be ready for occupancy before the next season. The dining-room in the west building will be increased to more than twice its present capacity. The present little park or patio between the wings of the west building, adjoining Central Park, is to be inclosed and made into a grand palm room, with a stained glass ceiling which will give a rich glow to the room. The entire south side of the palm room will be of plain glass, which will allow a free entrance of sunlight. The idea is to make the great palm room or rotunda into a combination lobby, lounge, room and sun parlor. Improvements are also to be made in the present Romanesque and Moorish parlors so as to give more room for the accommodation of the increased patronage of the hotel. The improvements will be all absolutely fireproof, conforming to the balance of the west building. The cost will be about $60,000 and will be in charge of F. L. Roehrig, who designed the hotel.

"I have definitely decided to go ahead with the building," said Col. G. Green, owner and proprietor of the Hotel Green, last night. "I have had the changes in mind for some time. I have told Mr. Roehrig to get the plans out as soon as possible and then will let the building contract. We have decided to use the west building for our American plan guests, and the east building will be run on the European plan. Our American plan dining-room was not half large enough to take care of the large patronage which we had this season. The east building is excellently adapted for a European plan hotel. I expect another year to run the dining-room in that building as a cafe.

"We will probably keep the east building open all summer. If we do, it will be strictly on the European plan. We will have the cafe running and will be in a position to accommodate summer tourists as well as transients.

"Our business is the best we have ever had in the history of the hotel. The class of people we have this year is exceptionally good and we have been able to give them every comfort. They have been well pleased and we had other winters with us. We expect our business to hold up well this year. We now have bookings and reservations for the coming season. We will keep the house well filled until it is closed the last of April."

OFFERED CONSULATE.
Dr. Arthur Hedeo Cooke, professor of German and French in Throp Polytechnic Institute, has been tendered the position of United States Consul at Patras, Greece. The offer came in his entirely unexpected manner. A letter addressed to him by Secretary of State Knox, received yesterday, Patras is the principal port of Greece, and has a population of 16,000. The present Consul is A. Donald Smith of New York. Dr. Cooke stated yesterday that he has not decided definitely whether he will take the important post or not. He has traveled extensively abroad and is an excellent linguist. He stated that he will not willingly leave his position at Throp, but he feels that the opportunities offered at the foreign post will enable him to thoroughly familiarize himself with the language and customs of that country.

CARMELITA FIGURES.
It is figured that in order to buy the Carmelita playground, present owners and equip them with the suitable buildings and athletic appliances, also to buy and annex the strip of ground on the north side of Washington street, the people will have to vote to bond the city for $200,000. It is stated that the bond for this amount would be put into buildings and equipment. Several shareholders have stated that they will donate their stock in the Carmelita Gardens to the city if the balance will do likewise. However many will not make a donation of their stock, although they are willing to sell it for cost. At the time the grounds were bought a few years ago the purchase price was $100,000. Since that time several thousand dollars have been spent in street improvements, taxes and interest, which brings the total cost to something like $60,000. It is stated that the grounds can be sold today for $100,000, if placed on the market.

LABORER INJURED.
John Kuehl, a laborer, was seriously injured about 9 o'clock yesterday morning while working on the excavation work of the new 22. 0. N. building on East Union street. Kuehl suddenly caved in and buried him. He was quickly extricated by fellow workmen. He was taken to the undertaking parlors of Ives, Warren & Salisbury, near the scene of the accident, where he was attended by Dr. McCoy. Kuehl was taken to the hospital yesterday morning. He was taken to the hospital yesterday morning. He was taken to the hospital yesterday morning.

Charles A. Erickson, who was seriously hurt in the automobile wreck near Azusa on the evening of February 26, when Mrs. Hannah Martin and Miss Fionn McEwen, both of Pasadena, were killed, was brought to the Pasadena Hospital yesterday. He was recovered, although he will be several weeks. At the time of the accident, Erickson was sitting in the front seat of the automobile with the driver, Louis Anderson. When attempting to cross the Santa Fe Railroad tracks the car was struck by a freight train. Anderson and Erickson were killed.

R. L. Stillwell, formerly humane officer in Pasadena, has been appointed deputy constable with headquarters in the Lamanda Park. The post is being made by the citizens of Lamanda Park to prohibit the wineries from selling at retail.

FOOLHARDY LONG BEACH BOYS HAVE CLOSE CALL.

Winery Man Who Assaulted Mexican Who Stabbed Him May Have to Face Charge of Murder—Charles M. Schwab Reserves Rooms at Virginia for Summer.

LONG BEACH, March 10.—John Trumbull and Bert Larimer, two boys aged 15 and 16 years, were close call this morning. They own a small boat and essayed to row out of the inner harbor and through the breakers to the ocean. They were thrown out. Neither could swim and both held to the sides of the skiff and shouted for help. A launch owner saw their plight and, taking his boat almost into the breakers, threw a rope and towed them to calm water. The boys landed at the pier.

MAY FACE MURDER CHARGE.
Peter Laborietta, the Los Alamitos winery man, who was assaulted and stabbed Monday by Trinidad Bravo, a Mexican, have spent several weeks in jail, may face a charge of murder. Bravo is in a critical condition and his preliminary hearing for deadly assault was continued.

RESERVED FOR SCHWAB.
After the stabbing, Bravo fled. He was pursued and overtaken by Laborietta and a constable. Bravo was brutally with a gun and a club, breaking an arm, fracturing five ribs and cracking his skull.

RESERVATION FOR SCHWAB.
"Reservation has been made at Hotel Virginia for the summer, of fourteen rooms for Charles M. Schwab and party of eight, who will arrive here in the latter part of this month. The Chamber of Commerce this morning extended an invitation to the annual excursion here in April. It is expected that 5000 will attend. Mrs. Mary Addis of Los Angeles, while sitting on the outer wharf this morning dropped a pearl earring valued at $30 in the water. A deckhand picked it up and handed it to the bauble, but was unable to find it.

TO START ON EXTENSION.
Contractor Mercereau will tomorrow morning start on the 300-foot extension of the east harbor jetty, making it the same length as the west one. The rock work will be continued. When it is completed, the dredging of the harbor will be completed.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.
The Chamber of Commerce this morning engaged W. Z. Lachar for two months to deliver lectures on Long Beach, with illustrated slides, in the house mother at the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

POMONA RIDER IS RENDERED UNCONSCIOUS.

Tries to Get Out of Way of Car Driven by Girl Aged Sixteen Years, But Is Hit and Seriously Injured. Success Attends George Junior Republic at Chicago.

POMONA, March 10.—Mrs. L. J. Gorman of No. 231 East Second street was seriously injured about 5 o'clock p.m., when she was knocked down by an auto, driven by Miss Spencer, the 16-year-old daughter of M. Spencer.

Mrs. Gorman was riding a bicycle and, hearing the auto coming up behind, attempted to turn out of the way, but the machine struck her. She was rendered unconscious. She was carried into a nearby hospital and then was moved to the hospital.

SETTLEMENT FLOURISHES.
The California George Junior Republic, which owns over 300 acres southeast of here on the Chino Ranch, where the settlement is located, is flourishing successfully and now has thirty-four young citizens making and administering the Republic.

PLAYA DEL REY, March 10.—Fire at 4 o'clock this morning destroyed the boiler house of the Stutzer Cement and Grading Company here. The loss in money will not exceed $100, as the boiler was uninsured, but the fire was a considerable annoyance by reason of delay.

THE FRAME STRUCTURE HOUSED THE boiler house construction work now in progress at the mouth of Ballona Harbor. Here a gateway of concrete is being built for the purpose of controlling the flow of water into and out of the lagoon.

THE ORIGIN OF THE FIRE IS NOT KNOWN. The blaze was discovered by R. T. Hale, the night watchman, who utilized the alarm by ringing a bell in preventing the spread of the flames.

TRY DRY FARMING.
Mess Ranchers at Santa Monica Stir Their Fields to Bring Moisture to the Surface.

SANTA MONICA, March 10.—Unless the equinox should bring the much-needed rain, ranchers will be compelled to try their hands this spring at dry farming. Grain that was sown early and received the benefits of the winter showers is progressing satisfactorily, but that which was scattered late came up only in spots.

Rain at this time would not be successful in bringing a full crop. Beneath the top surface of the ground there is a considerable moisture, and in an attempt to get the benefit of this moisture, ranchers are working as to bring it to the surface and turn the dry face under. Wherever it has been tried this experiment seems to be operating with a considerable degree of success.

SO FAR AS THE BEAN CROP IS CONCERNED, there is said to be sufficient moisture at the requisite depth to insure the growth of the legume vines. The shortage will be in the hay and barley yields.

Contractor Mercereau will tomorrow morning start on the 300-foot extension of the east harbor jetty, making it the same length as the west one. The rock work will be continued. When it is completed, the dredging of the harbor will be completed.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.
The Chamber of Commerce this morning engaged W. Z. Lachar for two months to deliver lectures on Long Beach, with illustrated slides, in the house mother at the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

Go to Hotel del Coronado at once.

POMONA RIDER IS RENDERED UNCONSCIOUS.

Tries to Get Out of Way of Car Driven by Girl Aged Sixteen Years, But Is Hit and Seriously Injured. Success Attends George Junior Republic at Chicago.

POMONA, March 10.—Mrs. L. J. Gorman of No. 231 East Second street was seriously injured about 5 o'clock p.m., when she was knocked down by an auto, driven by Miss Spencer, the 16-year-old daughter of M. Spencer.

Mrs. Gorman was riding a bicycle and, hearing the auto coming up behind, attempted to turn out of the way, but the machine struck her. She was rendered unconscious. She was carried into a nearby hospital and then was moved to the hospital.

SETTLEMENT FLOURISHES.
The California George Junior Republic, which owns over 300 acres southeast of here on the Chino Ranch, where the settlement is located, is flourishing successfully and now has thirty-four young citizens making and administering the Republic.

PLAYA DEL REY, March 10.—Fire at 4 o'clock this morning destroyed the boiler house of the Stutzer Cement and Grading Company here. The loss in money will not exceed $100, as the boiler was uninsured, but the fire was a considerable annoyance by reason of delay.

THE FRAME STRUCTURE HOUSED THE boiler house construction work now in progress at the mouth of Ballona Harbor. Here a gateway of concrete is being built for the purpose of controlling the flow of water into and out of the lagoon.

THE ORIGIN OF THE FIRE IS NOT KNOWN. The blaze was discovered by R. T. Hale, the night watchman, who utilized the alarm by ringing a bell in preventing the spread of the flames.

TRY DRY FARMING.
Mess Ranchers at Santa Monica Stir Their Fields to Bring Moisture to the Surface.

SANTA MONICA, March 10.—Unless the equinox should bring the much-needed rain, ranchers will be compelled to try their hands this spring at dry farming. Grain that was sown early and received the benefits of the winter showers is progressing satisfactorily, but that which was scattered late came up only in spots.

Rain at this time would not be successful in bringing a full crop. Beneath the top surface of the ground there is a considerable moisture, and in an attempt to get the benefit of this moisture, ranchers are working as to bring it to the surface and turn the dry face under. Wherever it has been tried this experiment seems to be operating with a considerable degree of success.

SO FAR AS THE BEAN CROP IS CONCERNED, there is said to be sufficient moisture at the requisite depth to insure the growth of the legume vines. The shortage will be in the hay and barley yields.

FOOLHARDY LONG BEACH BOYS HAVE CLOSE CALL.

Winery Man Who Assaulted Mexican Who Stabbed Him May Have to Face Charge of Murder—Charles M. Schwab Reserves Rooms at Virginia for Summer.

LONG BEACH, March 10.—John Trumbull and Bert Larimer, two boys aged 15 and 16 years, were close call this morning. They own a small boat and essayed to row out of the inner harbor and through the breakers to the ocean. They were thrown out. Neither could swim and both held to the sides of the skiff and shouted for help. A launch owner saw their plight and, taking his boat almost into the breakers, threw a rope and towed them to calm water. The boys landed at the pier.

MAY FACE MURDER CHARGE.
Peter Laborietta, the Los Alamitos winery man, who was assaulted and stabbed Monday by Trinidad Bravo, a Mexican, have spent several weeks in jail, may face a charge of murder. Bravo is in a critical condition and his preliminary hearing for deadly assault was continued.

RESERVED FOR SCHWAB.
After the stabbing, Bravo fled. He was pursued and overtaken by Laborietta and a constable. Bravo was brutally with a gun and a club, breaking an arm, fracturing five ribs and cracking his skull.

RESERVATION FOR SCHWAB.
"Reservation has been made at Hotel Virginia for the summer, of fourteen rooms for Charles M. Schwab and party of eight, who will arrive here in the latter part of this month. The Chamber of Commerce this morning extended an invitation to the annual excursion here in April. It is expected that 5000 will attend. Mrs. Mary Addis of Los Angeles, while sitting on the outer wharf this morning dropped a pearl earring valued at $30 in the water. A deckhand picked it up and handed it to the bauble, but was unable to find it.
